Aroused Arabs Asking U.N. To Unseat Israel

Such Drastic Action Not Expected, But Censure Seen Ahead

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Aroused Arab members of the United Nations pressed today for Israel's ouster from the world organization because of a bloody raid on Syrian posts.

There was, however, little indication that the Arab bloc would muster enough support to carry through with the move. But some action against Israel is expected.

The ouster campaign got underway after Syria's chief delegate, Ahmed Shukairy called on the Security Council yesterday to apply economic sanctions against Israel. He told the council that 49 Syrians were killed in an Israeli attack Sunday night on Syrian positions near the east shore of the Sea of Galilee.

Ten of the 11 council members decried the attack. They made it plain that they intend to censure Israel if the facts bear out Syria's charges. The council agreed to wait, however, for a full report from Palestine truce chief, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns before taking any action.

BURNS FLEW TO Damascus yesterday. He conferred with Gen. Shaukat Shuqair, Syrian army chief of staff. Informal sources said Shuqair demanded release of Syrians captured in the raid Sunday.

Shukairy told the council Israel had waged an attack of "unspeakable brutality" and declared she had breached the 1949 Israeli-Syrian armistice agreement.

He cited U. N. charter provisions dealing with the expulsion of any member state guilty of violating U. N. principles upon the Security Council's recommendation and said:

"Israel's membership in the United Nations is thus in question."

NATO Council Seeks Better Defense Setup

PARIS (AP)—The Atlantic Alliance, ending its first post-Geneva meeting in the chill of the renewed cold war, embarked today on an improved defense program designed to meet "a new challenge to the free world."

The NATO Council, composed of representatives of 15 countries, reported in an unusually blunt communique the general lines of its future defense planning to meet an expanding threat from the East. The statement said all members were determined to see the Atlantic forces equipped with the most modern weapons, with special emphasis on air defense and warning in Europe.

The council also cited "recent provocative moves and declarations by the Soviet Union regarding the Middle East and Asia" and said these tactics coupled with Russia's steadily growing military power, presented "a new challenge to the free world."

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles who headed the U. S. delegation, today threw America's weight behind a new drive toward European union. He talked with statesmen who are planning a pool of nuclear energy for peaceful purposes as another step toward complete integration in a common economic market.

Dulles opened these talks with leaders of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

GOP Anxious, Awaits Results Of Ike's Heart Examination

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Republicans anxiously awaited the results of another medical examination of President Eisenhower today as Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee embarked on a new try for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Eisenhower's checkup at his Gettysburg farm had broad political significance because the extent of his recovery from a Sept. 24 heart attack could bear heavily on whether he will seek a second White House term.

The checkover will be made by one of the world's leading heart specialists, Dr. Paul Dudley White.

White, the Boston specialist who was called in as a consultant after the Chief Executive's Sept. 24 heart attack in Denver, planned to examine the President personally for the first time in five weeks.

He has consulted from time to time by phone with the other principal doctors treating the President, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, Eisenhower's personal physician, and Walter Reed Hospital's Col. Thomas W. Mattingly. Both were called in to assist at today's examination.

As usual, the latest report on the President's health was awaited amid wide interest as to how it might affect his plans regarding a second term.

One medical question to be decided was:

Has Eisenhower's recovery been slowed by the active schedule he maintained increasingly up to a few days ago? His personal physicians have told him to taper off.

Kefauver's official entry yesterday into the race for the Democratic nomination in 1956 received a cordial reception from Adlai E. Stevenson.

"Come in, the water's fine," Stevenson said in Chicago. Stevenson, the Democrats' 1952 presidential standard bearer, has been an announced candidate for about a month.

The Tennessee senator said in Washington he will campaign to build up his own nomination chances and won't try to tear down any other Democratic candidate.

Stevenson said he was glad to hear Kefauver "wants to increase the unity and strength of our party."

One Of Santa's Deer Is 'Nixon'?

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP)—A student teacher from Whittier College, alma mater of Vice President Nixon, was regaling the kiddies at the Broad Oaks nursery school with "The Night Before Christmas" when her tongue tripped:

"Come Dunder, come Blitzen, come Prancer, come Nixon."

Not a Democrat in the house stirred.

Unions Study Westinghouse Yule Loan Idea

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Leaders of two striking unions reacted with mixed feeling to an offer of Westinghouse Electric Corp. to lend up to $100 to strikers and furloughed employees for Christmas.

Gwilym A. Price, board chairman and president of Westinghouse, made the offer yesterday in order, he said, to provide jobless workers with the "essentials for a decent Christmas."

Al Hartnett, secretary-treasurer of the International Union of Electrical Workers, said "they have offered a bribe."

Daniel Marguriet, president of Dist. 6 of the United Electrical Workers (Independent), said:

"It's a nice gesture. But if Price wanted to do something nice for Christmas he should have accepted our wage proposal and put the people back to work."

The IUE struck Oct. 17 to enforce demands for a 15-cent hourly pay increase under a reopening clause in a two-year contract, and limitations on time studies.

Except for the time study issue, the UE has presented the same demands. It struck Oct. 26. Union members averaged $2.10 an hour before the strikes.

Singer Flunks Sobriety Test

SAN FERNANDO, Calif. (AP)—Singer Gordon Macrae, who police said flunked a sobriety test following a traffic accident Tuesday, has been convicted of drunk driving and fined $315.

The singer was arrested after his car rammed three others.

Cleric's Son Is Linked To Extortion Plot

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The 20-year-old son of a minister was taken into custody last night in connection with a $600,000 extortion plot against John S. Knight, publisher of the Miami Herald and of newspapers in three other states.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said extortion charges will be filed against Peter Napoleon Williams Jr.

Charles E. Weeks, special agent in charge of the Miami office of the FBI, said Williams was taken into custody about an hour after a dummy package was placed on a garbage rack here.

Weeks said the youth was seized as he opened the package but told agents he had opened the package only out of curiosity.

Knight received a crudely written two-page letter in Chicago after it had been mailed in Miami. The FBI said the letter threatened death to Knight's family unless the demand for the $600,000 was met. The letter was signed "Extortioners, Inc.," Weeks said.

Besides the Herald here, Knight publishes the Chicago Daily News, the Detroit Free Press, and the Akron Beacon-Journal.

Mrs. Dill started collecting her $300 a month two months ago, under similar conditions.

Ohio River Oil Rights Given To Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Federal Judge Henry L. Brooks ruled yesterday that Kentucky has sole authority to lease oil-drilling rights in the Ohio River from its center to its northern (Ohio) shore.

The decision settles three of the principal controversies arising out of the discovery of oil in the Ohio River bed in the vicinity of Diamond Island, 11 miles below Henderson, Ky.

Three different groups had claimed rights to the river-bed oil—the state, counties bordering the river and a group of landowners who hold land grants.

In demolishing the claims of the landowner group to the river-bed oil lands, Judge Brooks ruled that the Kentucky Court of Appeals in 1907 held that the northern half of the river was not subject to land patents.

$5 Billion Bill Seen Needed To Answer Soviet

Balanced Budget, Cut In Taxes Obviously Out If Program Gets OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Apparently ruling out a balanced budget and a possible cut in taxes, the Eisenhower administration is reported drafting a stepped-up foreign aid request to Congress of nearly $5 billion for next year.

This is $2.2 billion more than legislators voted last session.

Informants said the big new program, partly in answer to Russia's tougher anti-Western policies, would be divided up this way:

Military assistance—about $3 billion, triple the amount Congress approved for the present fiscal year which began last July 1.

Economic aid—some $1.9 billion, about $300 million more than this year's appropriations for such purposes.

High ranking administration sources who disclosed the size of the foreign aid plans acknowledged many congressmen would be surprised—perhaps shocked—by any move to push foreign aid appropriations that high.

A $5 billion request, the biggest in four years, would reverse the recent trend toward lower foreign aid spending.

SECRETARY of State Dulles and Foreign Aid Director John B. Hollister had both predicted next year's foreign aid would continue at about the level as this year—$2.7 billion.

Several congressional leaders said after a foreign aid briefing at the White House Tuesday they understood the administration's new money request would amount to around $2.8 billion.

Even that, said some lawmakers, was too high as far as they were concerned. Bigger foreign aid spending would obviously hurt prospects for a balanced budget and a tax cut.

Well-posted government officials reported several days before the White House meeting that the administration had agreed on a figure of about $2.7 billion.

In explaining the new, higher total, officials who helped draft it said the biggest part, the $3 billion for weapons shipments overseas, was not finally decided upon until mid-week.

President Eisenhower could still change the program before he formally requests the funds in a message to Congress Jan. 17. But these officials said they expected no major changes.

Diplomatic Lottery Scheme Bogs Down World Assembly

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly bogged down in a diplomatic tangle last night over a lottery scheme designed to break the deadlock on a disputed Security Council seat.

Instead of winding up the 13-week old 10th session, Assembly delegates recessed and agreed to come back Monday morning to vote all over again on a hotly contested plan to give Yugoslavia the council seat next year and the Philippines the seat in 1957.

Assembly President Jose Maza of Chile proposed the lottery plan after 34 ballots failed to elect the third nonpermanent member of the Security Council for 1956-57. The proposal drew immediate protests from a dozen delegates and the adjournment until Monday came after the 35th ballot failed to produce a winner.

Maza called representatives of the United States, Britain, Russia, and France into his office after the 34th ballot. With them were representatives of the African-Arab bloc and the latin American group.

HE ALSO CALLED in Brig. Gen. Carlos D. Romulo, Philippine ambassador and proposed the plan calling for the Assembly to elect the country whose name he pulled out of a box first. Under the proposal, that country would agree to serve until the end of 1956, then resign and allow next year's Assembly to elect the other for the remaining year of the term.

Those present said both Romulo and Maza agreed.

Maza was blindfolded and the names of Yugoslavia and the Philippines were put in a box. Maza drew Yugoslavia's name.

The Assembly, which spent the day voting its $48,800,000 budget for the next year and approval of President Eisenhower's "open sky" plan for aerial inspection as a disarmament prelude, came back after a recess.

Cold, Wet Weather Seen Next 30 Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Weather Bureau says it will be colder and wetter than usual during the next 30 days. This is the outlook:

"The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook for mid-December 1955 to mid-January 1956 calls for temperatures to average above normal in the Southeast and normal along the Gulf Coast and in northern New England. In the remainder of the country below normal temperatures are expected with the coldest weather in the Northern Plains."

"Greater than normal amounts of snow are indicated in the northern third of the nation from the Great Lakes westward to the Pacific Coast. Rainfall is expected to be above normal along the West Coast and below normal in the east. Subnormal precipitation is indicated in the southern half of the country except near normal in the Tennessee Valley and along the Gulf Coast."

Below freezing weather spread over sections of the Southeast into northern Florida today as December's steady cold spell continued from the Rockies eastward.

It was a chilly 24 degrees in Cross City, Fla., this morning. Miami reported a low of 49.

Another blast of Arctic air moved across the northern Plains and moderate to heavy snow fell in the northern Rockies. A strong westerly flow of winds brought snow falls measuring up to 9 inches in Missoula, Mont.

The fresh blast of icy air into the Northern Plains sent temperatures tumbling below zero. It was 5 below in Minot, N. D.

Night Club Owner Guilty In 'Fix' Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—A night club operator convicted of contempt of court was free on bond today pending appeal of her case.

Miss Helen Jaffrin, 39, was found guilty late yesterday by Municipal Judge John V. Corrigan, who sentenced her to 10 days in jail and assessed a fine of $500.

She was accused of accepting $100 in an alleged attempt to "fix" a traffic ticket for a former barmaid in her club.

Judge Corrigan overruled a motion for a new trial. When Defense Counsel A. L. Kearns told him he would take the case to a higher court the judge set an appeal bond of $1,000 cash. The bond was posted after Miss Jaffrin had spent 30 minutes in jail.

Miss Janice Lee Strickland, 21, the former barmaid, testified that she arranged to pay $100 to Miss Jaffrin to "fix" a ticket that Miss Strickland received Oct. 15. She was under probation on a reckless driving charge at the time.

Miss Jaffrin denied attempting to fix the ticket.

Miss Strickland was fined $200, sentenced to 30 days in jail and placed on a year's probation on the Oct. 15 traffic charge by Judge Corrigan. The jail term and fine were suspended.

U.S., Britain Near Accord On Egypt Dam

PARIS (AP)—The United States and Britain are reported to be "90 per cent agreed" on raising $400 million's highest dam at Aswan on the Nile.

A high Allied diplomat said a chief purpose of Western assistance in the $1.3 billion project would be forestall a Soviet offer to furnish all outside assistance as a 50-year loan at 2 1/2 per cent interest.

The plan provides:

1. The World Bank would furnish about half the foreign assistance, $200 million. This would take the form of a 30-year loan to Egypt at 4 1/2 per cent interest.
2. The United States would provide about four-fifths of the balance, approximately $160 million, over the next 10 years. This would be in the form of outright grants which Congress is expected to approve next year.
3. Britain would come up with the remaining $40 million.
4. Egypt would pay for the local labor costs.

She was accused of accepting $100 in an alleged attempt to "fix" a traffic ticket for a former barmaid in her club.

Judge Corrigan overruled a motion for a new trial. When Defense Counsel A. L. Kearns told him he would take the case to a higher court the judge set an appeal bond of $1,000 cash. The bond was posted after Miss Jaffrin had spent 30 minutes in jail.

Miss Janice Lee Strickland, 21, the former barmaid, testified that she arranged to pay $100 to Miss Jaffrin to "fix" a ticket that Miss Strickland received Oct. 15. She was under probation on a reckless driving charge at the time.

Miss Jaffrin denied attempting to fix the ticket.

Miss Strickland was fined $200, sentenced to 30 days in jail and placed on a year's probation on the Oct. 15 traffic charge by Judge Corrigan. The jail term and fine were suspended.

Jets Pay Tribute To First Flight

KILL DEVIL HILLS, N. C. (AP)—A flight of jets streak across the sky over Kill Devil Hills today in tribute to man's first successful effort to fly.

The 12 F84F Thunderbolt jets from Langley Air Force Base, capable of doing better than 500 miles per hour, will flash over the Wright Brothers National Memorial Monument in the 52nd anniversary celebration of the first powered heavier than air flight.

The Wright Monument is built on the site where, 52 years ago, Orville and Wilbur Wright flew their plane 30 m.p.h. into a 27-mile an hour wind.

Cleric's Son Is Linked To Extortion Plot

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The 20-year-old son of a minister was taken into custody last night in connection with a $600,000 extortion plot against John S. Knight, publisher of the Miami Herald and of newspapers in three other states.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said extortion charges will be filed against Peter Napoleon Williams Jr.

Charles E. Weeks, special agent in charge of the Miami office of the FBI, said Williams was taken into custody about an hour after a dummy package was placed on a garbage rack here.

Weeks said the youth was seized as he opened the package but told agents he had opened the package only out of curiosity.

Knight received a crudely written two-page letter in Chicago after it had been mailed in Miami. The FBI said the letter threatened death to Knight's family unless the demand for the $600,000 was met. The letter was signed "Extortioners, Inc." Weeks said.

Besides the Herald here, Knight publishes the Chicago Daily News, the Detroit Free Press, and the Akron Beacon-Journal.

Worker Receives Electrical Burns

Roger Lozier, an employee at a local plant, suffered first and second degree electrical burns on his face and hands Friday.

Dr. V. D. Kerns, who treated Lozier, said the man "was lucky." He added that Lozier was in "good" condition today.

Lozier reportedly had just replaced a fuse in a fuse box near one of the mill's machines when there was a sudden "flash." Dr. Kerns said Lozier kept his eyes closed, thus saving serious injury.

$5 Billion Bill Seen Needed To Answer Soviet

Balanced Budget, Cut In Taxes Obviously Out If Program Gets OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Apparently ruling out a balanced budget and a possible cut in taxes, the Eisenhower administration is reported drafting a stepped-up foreign aid request to Congress of nearly $5 billion for next year.

This is $2.2 billion more than legislators voted last session. Informants said the big new program, partly in answer to Russia's tougher anti-Western policies, would be divided up this way:

Military assistance—about $3 billion, triple the amount Congress approved for the present fiscal year which began last July 1.

Economic aid—some $1.9 billion, about $300 million more than this year's appropriations for such purposes.

High ranking administration sources who disclosed the size of the foreign aid plans acknowledged many congressmen would be surprised—perhaps shocked—by any move to push foreign aid appropriations that high.

A $5 billion request, the biggest in four years, would reverse the recent trend toward lower foreign aid spending.

SEVERAL congressional leaders said after a foreign aid briefing at the White House Tuesday they understood the administration's new money request would amount to around $2.8 billion.

Even that, said some lawmakers, was too high as far as they were concerned. Bigger foreign aid spending would obviously hurt prospects for a balanced budget and a tax cut.

Well-posted government officials reported several days before the White House meeting that the administration had agreed on a figure of about $2.7 billion.

In explaining the new, higher total, officials who helped draft it said the biggest part, the $3 billion for weapons shipments overseas, was not finally decided upon until mid-week.

President Eisenhower could still change the program before he formally requests the funds in a message to Congress Jan. 17. But these officials said they expected no major changes.

"LICENSE PLATE ON SLOW GETAWAY CAR"

I saw this Doodles on a blotter in a bank I investigated last week with an eye to depositing some money in it. My ice box was full and I thought a Bank might be the place to keep the excess of $14 in change I'd saved up. But naturally I wanted to check on them so I went into the President's office and "felt him out" by asking a few psychological questions like: "You got a good burglar alarm system?" and "Do you make big bets on Horse Races?" and "Did you ever serve Time?" Then I poked my finger in his ribs and hollered "Stick 'em up!" to test his reaction. It wasn't favorable. In fact, he was pretty rude and so were the five guards who threw me out.

Diphtheria Test At New Holland Shows Negative

Pickaway County Health Nurse Helen Pickens announced late Friday that diphtheria tests made on 306 school children at New Holland had returned negative (no disease) results.

Completion of the tests appeared to end a diphtheria scare which began several weeks ago when a New Holland boy's death was unofficially attributed to the disease. The boy died in a Columbus hospital.

Tests then made on members of a New Holland family disclosed one "positive" case—an apparently healthy boy described as a "carrier" of the disease. Diphtheria is unknowingly spread at times by such "carriers", and the boy has since been held under treatment in a Columbus hospital.

Because of this case, however, the Pickaway County health branch immediately asked for tests on all pupils at New Holland schools as a precautionary step. It was the results of these tests that were made public here Friday.

THE SUSPECTED "carrier", it was explained, will remain under treatment in isolation at Columbus until he no longer shows traces of the disease.

Both county and city of Circleville health departments emphasized that no diphtheria cases have been reported locally, except those suspected in the New Holland investigation.

Soviet Editors Say U.S. Girls Need More Duds

LONDON (P)—Two Soviet editors said that the girls in U. S. night club floor shows ought to wear more clothes.

Moscow radio broadcast the criticism by Anatoly Sofronov, editor of the magazine Ogonyok, and Alexie Adzhubei, editor of the newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda. They returned recently from a tour of America.

They said they visited several night clubs and that the floor shows were "very interesting," but those girls!

"The territory that was uncovered," said Sofronov, "was much too great."

"Most American girls are very pretty," Adzhubei remarked. "We seemed to agree on that."

DOCTORS' 'DEAN' RETIRES

Virginia Medico Serves His Community 68 1-2 Years

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
Central Press Association
Correspondent

WINCHESTER, Va.—It took Emmert Christopher Stuart, Sr., only two years and $600 to become a doctor. Today, it takes five or six times as long and costs thousands of dollars.

However, things were different when Dr. Stuart enrolled in the College of Physicians and Surgeons, now the University of Maryland medical school.

The year was 1885 and Dr. Stuart was only 19. At 21 he was a full-fledged physician and began his practice in Baltimore.

Few physicians have served as long as Dr. Stuart in the field of medicine and none now alive can equal his record of 68½ years of active service. He retired the other day amid the acclaim of countless friends, many of whom he delivered at birth.

AT MEMORIAL HOSPITAL in Winchester his fellow-physicians have erected a plaque in his honor. It states, in part: "In active service 1887-1955. Member of the medical staff of Memorial hospital 1910-1955."

When Dr. Stuart celebrated his 90th birthday Nov. 6, he remarked, "I'm not really that old. I've just lived that long."

The aged physician recalls that when he entered medical school it cost him $3.50 a week in Baltimore for room and board. He earned his tuition money by working on a farm.

Following his graduation in 1887, he spent four years in Baltimore and then opened an office in Pittsburgh, Pa. There he practiced until 1910, when he went to Winchester.

FOR 45 YEARS, Dr. Stuart carried on his profession in Winchester and in that period of time he used three offices, all situated within a few blocks of each other. Dr. Stuart was born during the final year of the Civil war near White Post, Va. He received his early education in Martinsburg, W. Va.

When Stuart decided to become a physician he followed in the footsteps of his maternal grandfather, Dr. F. M. Burkhardt, of Parkersville, Va. When he retired, there was someone close to carry on his work—Dr. E. C. Stuart, Jr.

Probably the all-time record for active practice goes to Dr. Edmund B. Montgomery, of Quincy, Ill., who died Dec. 8, 1954, at the age of 96 after serving 76 years in his home city. Dr. Montgomery graduated in 1878 from Jefferson college in Philadelphia.

Doctors are such durable characters and so devoted to their duties that it's problematical whether Dr. Stuart will retain the distinction of having practiced longer than any other living physician. In Flemingsburg, Ky., there's a spry old doctor who's been taking care of the ill and aches of countless thousands for 64 years. He's Dr. William Saunders Reeves, only 90 years old.

Dr. Reeves is still going strong without any thought of retiring.

Daughter Of Former Circleville Resident Featured In 'Time' Mag

Circleville has particular reason to be proud of the Time Magazine dated December 19 — next week's issue.

A public letter to readers of the magazine from Time Publisher James A. Linen features the grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Bales of 207 E. Main St. The grand-daughter, 15-year old Liza Bales Moore of Winnetka, Ill., is pictured along with the main reason for the high tribute—her astonishing collection of autographed Time covers.

Miss Moore is a daughter of the former Mary Alice Bales, who was born in Circleville and graduated from Circleville High School. "Publisher Linen's letter, addressed to "Dear Time-Reader", tells its own story as follows: "This week, I want to tell you about Time-Reader Liza Bales Moore, pretty 15-year-old neighbor of Time advertising salesman Wallace Lander of Winnetka, a pleasant suburb of Chicago. Liza has two sisters, Molly, 12, and Nora, 8, and two nine-year-old Siamese cats named King and Caliph. "When she was twelve, Liza did so poorly in her current events class that her father, M. De Witt Moore, an industrial engineer, and her mother, both thorough readers of Time all the 23 years of their marriage, were somewhat embarrassed. "In current events," said Mrs. Moore, "Liza was practically illiterate."

"So Mrs. Moore started Liza reading Time stories aloud (sometimes helping with the hard words). To what her daughter's interest, Mrs. Moore suggested a hobby: Liza would read the cover stories, compose a letter and send it with the cover picture to the subject for an autograph.

"Now, three years later, Liza has just about the finest collection of autographed Time covers extant. Statesmen, churchmen, industrialists, movie stars and even the famous race horse, Native Dancer (according to Owner Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt), were charmed by Liza's newsy letters about the busy Moore family of Winnetka.

"Wrote Senator Clifford Case (Time, Oct. 18, 1954): 'May I tell you how much I enjoyed reading your letter and hearing about your nice family, as well as about King and Caliph?' Heinz Nordhoff (Time, Feb. 15, 1954) sent Liza plastic models of his Volkswagen cars and a big picture book on Germany with his autograph.

Children Given 2 Yule Trees

Win Koch, superintendent of the Pickaway County Children's Home, has revealed that the children in his charge have been given two Christmas trees by Circleville's Company I of the Ohio National Guard.

The Guardsmen here also conducted a toy roundup earlier this week to brighten the Yuletide for needy families.

Meanwhile, the annual series of big Christmas programs at the children's home is already under way. Koch reported that the children thoroughly enjoyed programs already held by the Circleville Kiwanis and Lions clubs, and the First EUB Church.

Next Thursday, a Yule program will be sponsored by Hedges Chapel. And on the following evening the children will be guests at a church play arranged by the Nazarene Church.

Programs for the children placed in the county's charge, and various toy tours and gift distributions, have long been a traditional part of the Christmastide here.

DOCTORS' 'DEAN' RETIRES

Virginia Medico Serves His Community 68 1-2 Years

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
Central Press Association
Correspondent

WINCHESTER, Va.—It took Emmert Christopher Stuart, Sr., only two years and $600 to become a doctor. Today, it takes five or six times as long and costs thousands of dollars.

However, things were different when Dr. Stuart enrolled in the College of Physicians and Surgeons, now the University of Maryland medical school.

The year was 1885 and Dr. Stuart was only 19. At 21 he was a full-fledged physician and began his practice in Baltimore.

Few physicians have served as long as Dr. Stuart in the field of medicine and none now alive can equal his record of 68 1/2 years of active service. He retired the other day amid the acclaim of countless friends, many of whom he delivered at birth.

AT MEMORIAL HOSPITAL in Winchester his fellow-physicians have erected a plaque in his honor. It states, in part: "In active service 1887-1955. Member of the medical staff of Memorial hospital 1910-1955."

When Dr. Stuart celebrated his 90th birthday Nov. 6, he remarked, "I'm not really that old. I've just lived that long."

The aged physician recalls that when he entered medical school it cost him $3.50 a week in Baltimore for room and board. He earned his tuition money by working on a farm.

Following his graduation in 1887, he spent four years in Baltimore and then opened an office in Pittsburgh, Pa. There he practiced until 1910, when he went to Winchester.

FOR 45 YEARS, Dr. Stuart carried on his profession in Winchester and in that period of time he used three offices, all situated within a few blocks of each other.

Dr. Stuart was born during the final year of the Civil war near White Post, Va. He received his early education in Martinsburg, W. Va.

When Stuart decided to become a physician he followed in the footsteps of his maternal grandfather, Dr. F. M. Burkhardt, of Parkersville, Va. When he retired, there was someone close to carry on his work—Dr. E. C. Stuart, Jr.

Probably the all-time record for active practice goes to Dr. Edmund B. Montgomery, of Quincy, Ill., who died Dec. 8, 1954, at the age of 96 after serving 76 years in his home city. Dr. Montgomery graduated in 1878 from Jefferson college in Philadelphia.

Doctors are such durable characters and so devoted to their duties that it's problematical whether Dr. Stuart will retain the distinction of having practiced longer than any other living physician.

In Flemingsburg, Ky., there's a spry old doctor who's been taking care of the ills and aches of countless thousands for 64 years. He's Dr. William Saunders Reeves, only 90 years old.

Dr. Reeves is still going strong without any thought of retiring.

Daughter Of Former Circleville Resident Featured In 'Time' Mag

Circleville has particular reason to be proud of the Time Magazine dated December 19 — next week's issue.

A public letter to readers of the magazine from Time Publisher James A. Linen features the grand-daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Bales of 207 E. Main St. The grand-daughter, 15-year-old Liza Bales Moore of Winnetka, Ill., is pictured along with the main reason for the high tribute—her astonishing collection of autographed Time covers.

Miss Moore is a daughter of the former Mary Alice Bales, who was born in Circleville and graduated from Circleville High School.

Publisher Linen's letter, addressed to "Dear Time-Reader", tells its own story as follows:

"This week, I want to tell you about Time-Reader Liza Bales Moore, pretty 15-year-old neighbor of Time advertising salesman Wallace Lawder in Winnetka, a pleasant suburb of Chicago. Liza has two sisters, Molly, 12, and Nora, 8, and two nine-year-old Siamese cats named King and Caliph."

"When she was twelve, Liza did so poorly in her current events class that her father, M. De Witt Moore, an industrial engineer, and her mother, both thorough readers of Time all the 23 years of their marriage, were somewhat embarrassed. 'In current events,' said Mrs. Moore, 'Liza was practically illiterate.'"

"So Mrs. Moore started Liza reading Time stories aloud (sometimes helping with the hard words). To what her daughter's interest, Mrs. Moore suggested a hobby: Liza would read the cover stories, compose a letter and send it with the cover picture to the subject for an autograph."

"Now, three years later, Liza has just about the finest collection of autographed Time covers extant. Statesmen, churchmen, industrialists, movie stars and even the famous race horse, Native Dancer (according to Owner Al Dancer Gwynne Vanderbilt), were charmed by Liza's newsy letters about the busy Moore family of Winnetka."

"Wrote Senator Clifford Case (Time, Oct. 18, 1954): 'May I tell you how much I enjoyed reading your letter and hearing about your nice family, as well as about King and Caliph?' Heinz Nordhoff (Time, Feb. 15, 1954) sent Liza plastic models of his Volkswagen cars and a big picture book on Germany with his autograph."

"And he sent it all air mail, too," Liza exclaimed. "It cost him $8!"

ONE of Liza's favorites is the golden signature of Queen Frederika of Greece (Time, Oct. 26, 1953). "I think it is neat that I got a real Queen!" says Liza happily.

"As a result of her Time reading, Liza, currently a tenth-grader, is one of the best-informed students at New Trier High School. Proudly her mother says: 'Liza is so well educated now that it's amazing. Not that I'd take anything away from her teachers and the schools, but Time did a better job of making things interesting as well as informative.'"

DUTCH-BORN Countess Aline Van Linburg-Sterum has denied all rumors linking her romantically with Group Capt. Peter Townsend, who has been quietly and sadly going about his duties in Brussels, Belgium, since his return from London. Friends reported he was deeply affected when Princess Margaret of Britain announced she would not marry him. The Countess says her friendship with Capt. Townsend is based on a mutual interest in horses. (International)

Children Given 2 Yule Trees

Win Koch, superintendent of the Pickaway County Children's Home, has revealed that the children in his charge have been given two Christmas trees by Circleville's Company I of the Ohio National Guard.

The Guardsmen here also conducted a toy roundup earlier this week to brighten the Yuletide for needy families.

Meanwhile, the annual series of big Christmas programs at the children's home is already under way. Koch reported the children thoroughly enjoyed programs already held by the Circleville Kiwanis and Lions clubs, and the First EUB church.

Next Thursday, a Yule program will be sponsored by Hedges Chapel. And on the following evening the children will be guests at a church play arranged by the Nazarene Church.

Programs for the children placed in the county's charge, and various toy tours and gift distributions, have long been a traditional part of the Christmastide here.

BRING A FRIEND TO CHURCH WITH YOU

Presbyterians Set Christmas Theme At Sunday Service

At the Presbyterian Church, the Sunday before Christmas will be observed by the theme for worship "Son Of God". The Rev. Donald Mitchell will develop this theme using the Scripture from the prophet Isaiah, chapter 9:2,6 and 12:2.

The new day of salvation and deliverance dawns for the people of Earth at the birth of Jesus the Christ who alone of all the servants of God in heaven or upon Earth has the power to forgive us our sins and present us faultless before our Maker at the last day.

It is the Christ, and none other, whom Holy Scripture reveals. It is He whom Isaiah describes as "wonderful counselor, Mighty God, the Father of Eternity, the Prince of Peace." Whom else could it be? To read anything else into the advent of the Messiah is to lose the unique gift of salvation and the wondrous love of God so freely given to us in the Christ of God. "Behold, God is my salvation,"—none other (Isa. 12:2). Assurance of this is our joy at Christmas.

Mrs. Clark Will directs the choir in singing the anthem "There Were Shepherds". Miss Juanita Hill will sing the soprano solo part. Christmas hymns also will be sung, including: "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing"; "God Rest Ye, Merry Gentlemen"; and "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear".

At the organ, Mrs. Theodore L. Huston has chosen the following Christmas numbers: choral prelude on "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear", arranged by Schmutz; "O Little Town of Bethlehem", arranged by Oetting; and "March of the Magi Kings" and "Joy To the World", by Dubois.

Rev. Charles Reed To Continue Series On Apostles' Creed

The minister of First Methodist Church, the Rev. Charles D. Reed, will continue his series of sermons on "The Apostles' Creed" in the duplicate worship services this Sunday, and will use for his sermon subjects "God's Only Son—Our Lord."

The junior choir, under the direction of Mrs. James Hodges, will sing "Praise to the Christ Child" by Malmin in the 8:15 a. m. service. The adult choir, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Defenbaugh, will sing "Holy Night! Peaceful Night" by Hawley in the 10:45 a. m. service. Also as a part of the late service a mixed quartet composed of Miss Lura Purdin, Mrs. Richard Pettit, Charles Kirkpatrick, and Gordon Fraser, with Mrs. Larry Graham singing an Obligation, will sing "Fair Lord Jesus" by Gillette.

Mrs. James Hodges, the assistant church organist, will be at the organ in both services, and will use for her prelude "Emmanuel" by Rossini, for her offertory "Alleluia, Alleluia" by Armstrong, and for her postlude "Exultate Deo" by William.

The minister will use for his Scripture Lesson a portion of the 40th Chapter of Isaiah, and will lead the congregation in the singing of the Hymns "Come Thou Long Expected Jesus" by Wesley and "Serenity" by Whittier.

For Christmas and New Year's Sundays there will be but one worship service and it will be held at 10:45 a. m. There will be a Christmas Eve Candle-Light service at 8 p. m. and two New Year's Eve Communion services at 8 p. m. and 11 p. m.

Church Of Christ Plans To Present Yuletide Program

The Church of Christ in Christian Union, E. Ohio St., will have their Christmas program Sunday morning. This program will include all Sunday school children through the intermediate classes.

The beginners class will have individual recitations directed by their teacher, Mrs. Forrest Rinehart.

The primary, junior and intermediate classes will present a children's play, called: "Because It's Jesus' Birthday". The play will be directed by Mrs. Katherine Hutchison, teacher of first primary and assisted by Mrs. Laura Maxwell, who is the superintendent of the junior department of the Sunday school, and the teachers of the other classes.

The program will include singing of the traditional Christmas carols by the children's choir. At the close of the program, the Christmas treat for the Sunday school will be distributed.

INTO THE DULL ROUTINE

There was little excitement in a shepherd's life. Long, uneventful days beneath the hot sun on a grassy hillside. Long, lonely nights, still and shadowy as the moon rode slowly among the clouds. All the monotony of a million lives today.

But into the dull routine of a shepherd's life came the vision that has captivated the imagination of man for two thousand years. An angelic voice saying, "Fear not..." A heavenly host singing, "Glory to God...and peace..." The startling proclamation of the Saviour's birth!

The message still comes with brightness and joy to all whose lot it is to labor, to endure, to wait. And the Church, preaching the Truth of the One born that night in Bethlehem, calls men from the drabness of worldly pursuits to see this Thing which has come to pass, which the Lord made known unto a band of bored shepherds centuries ago.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BRING A FRIEND TO CHURCH WITH YOU

Presbyterians Set Christmas Theme At Sunday Service

At the Presbyterian Church, the Sunday before Christmas will be observed by the theme for worship "Son Of God". The Rev. Donald Mitchell will develop this theme using the Scripture from the prophet Isaiah, chapter 9:2,6 and 12:2.

The new day of salvation and deliverance dawns for the people of Earth at the birth of Jesus the Christ who alone of all the servants of God in heaven or upon Earth has the power to forgive us our sins and present us faultless before our Maker at the last day.

It is the Christ, and none other, whom Holy Scripture reveals. It is He whom Isaiah describes as "wonderful counsellor, Mighty God, the Father of Eternity, the Prince of Peace." Whom else could it be? To read anything else into the advent of the Messiah is to lose the unique gift of salvation and the wondrous love of God so freely given to us in the Christ of God. "Behold, God is my salvation;—none other (Isa. 12:2). Assurance of this is our joy at Christmas.

Mrs. Clark Will directs the choir in singing the anthem "There Were Shepherds". Miss Juanita Hill will sing the soprano solo part. Christmas hymns also will be sung, including: "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing"; "God Rest Ye, Merry Gentlemen"; and "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear". At the organ, Mrs. Theodore L. Huston has chosen the following Christmas numbers: choral prelude on "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear", arranged by Schmutz; "O Little Town of Bethlehem", arranged by Oetting; and "March of the Magi Kings" and "Joy To the World", by Dubois.

Rev. Charles Reed To Continue Series On Apostles' Creed

The minister of First Methodist Church, the Rev. Charles D. Reed, will continue his series of sermons on "The Apostles' Creed" in the duplicate worship services this Sunday, and will use for his sermon subjects "God's Only Son—Our Lord."

The junior choir, under the direction of Mrs. James Hodges, will sing "Praise to the Christ Child" by Malmin in the 8:15 a. m. service. The adult choir, under the direction of Mrs. Harold Defenbaugh, will sing "Holy Night! Peaceful Night" by Hawley in the 10:45 a. m. service. Also as a part of the late service a mixed quartet composed of Miss Lura Purdin, Mrs. Richard Pettit, Charles Kirkpatrick, and Gordon Fraser, with Mrs. Larry Graham singing an Obligation, will sing "Fair Lord Jesus" by Gillette.

Mrs. James Hodges, the assistant church organist, will be at the organ in both services, and will use for her prelude "Emmanuel" by Rossini, for her offertory "Alleluia, Alleluia" by Armstrong, and for her postlude "Exultate Deo" by William.

The minister will use for his Scripture Lesson a portion of the 40th Chapter of Isaiah, and will lead the congregation in the singing of the Hymns "Come Thou Long Expected Jesus" by Wesley and "Serenity" by Whittier.

For Christmas and New Year's Sundays there will be but one worship service and it will be held at 10:45 a. m. There will be a Christmas Eve Candle-Light service at 8 p. m. and two New Year's Eve Communion services at 8 p. m. and 11 p. m.

Church Of Christ Plans To Present Yuletide Program

The Church of Christ in Christian Union, E. Ohio St., will have their Christmas program Sunday morning. This program will include all Sunday school children through the intermediate classes.

The beginners class will have individual recitations directed by their teacher, Mrs. Forrest Rinehart.

The primary, junior and intermediate classes will present a children's play, called: "Because It's Jesus' Birthday". The play will be directed by Mrs. Katherine Hutchison, teacher of first primary and assisted by Mrs. Laura Maxwell, who is the superintendent of the junior department of the Sunday school, and the teachers of the other classes.

The program will include singing of the traditional Christmas carols by the children's choir. At the close of the program, the Christmas treat for the Sunday school will be distributed.

TABLE TALK

WHAT ARE THE Soviets really thinking these days? A veteran Washington newspaperman who was invited to an unexpected luncheon tete-a-tete with Anatoli Dobrynin, minister-counselor and No. 2 man in the Soviet embassy in the nation's capital, may have the answer.

The fact that the U. S. newsman reports for The Wall Street Journal, one of Moscow's favorite scapegoats supposedly symbolic of hated American capitalism, made the interview all the more unusual — and interesting. The Journal tells all in a prominently displayed front page story.

The Soviets, according to Mr. Dobrynin, relish the thought of "competitive co-existence." However, by this they don't mean free competition in a trading sense as Americans do. Instead they interpret the term as a race to see which side will get stronger more quickly and win over other countries economically and politically. The Russian diplomat made it clear that the reds have no qualms about using subversive and underground methods to gain the advantage.

Americans have surmised this about the communists for some time. But to hear the point expressed by an urbane host across the luncheon table packs a special type of wallop. To the Soviets competition is neither free—nor friendly.

A STRIKING CONTRAST

FORECASTS that the United States is entering a period of record peacetime prosperity continue to appear daily. These predictions are so persistent they have been gaining in credibility and words of caution are seldom heard.

Crystal Gazers who foresee a prolonged era of ever greater prosperity base their prophecies on record employment, high wages, increased trade and a healthy economy generally in which only farm prosperity is lagging. It is a bright picture indeed. The same cannot be said for the communist world, where depression is the rule, both in Russia and in all its satellites. According to the best information available these countries have been milked dry and the people are restive.

In the midst of great prosperity in the non-communist world, the entire communist orbit is taking on the status of slums. Both U. S. prosperity and Russian depression may be overemphasized, but the contrast is so marked it cannot be overlooked as a definite indication of world trend. It is a contrast that inevitably will influence nations which are undecided whether to direct their allegiance.

Certainly freedom has more to offer than slavery. Slavery and communism are synonymous terms.

A NAGGING PUPPET

IF MOSCOW hoped for a favorable West German reaction to East Germany's total claim to Berlin, it is disappointed. East Germany responds when the Kremlin pulls the strings but West Germany does not.

West Germany's parliament has rejected all proposals for separate negotiations with Russia for the unification of Germany. It says furthermore that reunification can be accomplished only in close cooperation with the West. West Germany reaffirms its stand for free elections and membership in West Europe's security organization.

Moscow can go on nagging through its puppet, and doubtless will. But West Germany is not interested. The United States says it will stay in Berlin, according to treaty. The treaty is in effect until another is made. Russia has spurned all treaty-making efforts except on its own terms.

Russia could push the allies out of West Berlin. It could have done so during the Berlin airlift. Such action by the Russians would threaten if not compel war, and the question is whether Russia is ready for it. The opinion of those apparently best informed continues to be that Russia is not.

CHERCHEZ THE REDS

These Days

Immigration has been, throughout our history, precisely what is meant by the word, the migration of individuals to the United States from other countries. When we needed people to populate our country, immigration was encouraged. That is how the ancestors of all of us came here from somewhere in Europe, Asia, or Africa.

Now along comes Senator Clifford Case of New Jersey with a new theory. He said: "We no longer are able to think of our immigration policies as an isolated question of internal concern alone. What we do is watched by the world. It is still another arm of our foreign policy."

Let us analyze what this means. According to Senator Case's notion, the needs and welfare of the United States have ceased to be important. What we Americans believe to be true about the United States does not matter but what Krishna Menon, who bedevils us, thinks is of paramount importance.

Shall we admit a million or two Hindus to the United States just to prove to Nehru that we do not suffer from race prejudice as Dr. Malan does in South Africa? Or, shall we admit a million Italians every year because Italy is overcrowded and needs to get rid of part of its population?

Senator Case has obviously not thought out the ultimate consequences of his statement. Immigration cannot possibly be an arm of our foreign policy because it is essentially domestic—a question of the size and nature of our population, the need for workers in agriculture or industry. True, Italy would like to export tailors or chefs to improve our appearance and our digestion, but do we need more tailors and chefs?

What do we require to improve the productivity of our population? At present, shortages are in unexpected areas. We are short of engineers, chemists, mathematicians, policemen, teachers. From what countries are we to import such persons?

The Russians, with rare foresight, got hold of engineers and scientists, immediately after World War II, principally from Germany. They did remarkably well by themselves with these highly-trained, experienced Germans whom we rejected because they had been Nazis or were associated with Nazis.

We let some of the best minds in Europe fall into the hands of our enemies when we might have found them useful to us.

I should imagine that Senator Case and such will view this with horror and alarm, but it is not worse for us that the Russians have been able to develop the H-Bomb, the Schnorkel submarine, the guided missile, because of these German scientists? The country needs brains; we can supply our own machinery. The proof that we need trained brains is obvious in the fact that we have such a shortage of engineers; there is no shortage of politicians.

No law is immutable in the United States. We are neither Persians nor Medes. It is obvious that some day the McCarran-Walter Act will be revised, amended, rewritten, as every law is, from time to time. For years, labor leaders and A.D.A.s have demanded the amendment or even repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act but whenever they have controlled Congress, as, for instance, its most recent session, they have avoided the subject.

If Senator Case wishes to establish his sincerity, why does he not bring in a revision of the McCarran-Walter Act? Senators Ives and Saltonstall and Case brought up some kind of measure but it was inadequate and nothing was done about it. What Case urges is that 1950 instead of 1920 be used as a base for the national origins quota. This does not meet our problem. It may get the Senators a few additional votes on Election Day.

But this question of immigration is too important, too complex to be settled either to please emotionally excited groups in this country or the need of politicians to gather batches of votes. It is part of our problem of national survival as a free people. It is part of our problem of maintaining our civilization.

To some, many of them Americans of old lineage, it is not important to save the distinctive American civilization; what does seem important is that we should kow-tow to every currently neutralist country so that some of them might turn their smirking countenances toward us. It is this conflict of view that may be resolved in the election of 1956.

ing scrutiny is the possibility that narcotics smuggling may have figured in the slaying. Nothing has been revealed to substantiate this theory, however.

If, by the remotest chance, the world-wide communist apparatus did not have a finger in the Remon slaying, the reds will not pass up the opportunity to capitalize on the disruption to the greatest extent possible.

CHAPTER SIXTEEN

AT BREAKFAST Mrs. Tyler wanted to hear about the party. Who had attended? What had been served?

There was a knocking on the back door just then and Lora started nervously. That would probably be Ambrose with the puppy and it was all she could do to refrain from running to the door. She had worried ever since rising over this matter of getting the puppy into her own hands before anyone else realized its existence. If Mrs. Tyler were to see it first—

But John Ambrose had thought the problem out himself. In a moment Ellie came to the dining-room door, looking mildly suspicious. It was for Mrs. Wade Tyler, she said, and mentioned no names. "Well, tell whoever it is to come in. Don't stand there," Mrs. Tyler ordered.

Before Ellie could comply, Lora slipped from her chair and hurried to the door. Ambrose was waiting in the kitchen with a small covered basket in his hands. "Good morning, Mrs. Tyler," he said pleasantly. "It's that matter we spoke about," and behind Ellie's back he gave her a hasty wink.

"Yes, of course," Lora said. "Please come in, Mr. Ambrose. If you'll bring the basket right in where the Christmas tree is..."

They left Ellie in the kitchen, clearly popping with curiosity, and hurried to the parlor. Not until the door was closed behind them did Ambrose reach gently for the thin covering that lay over the basket. He drew it part way back to reveal the snug little ball of warmth that lay sleeping within.

"I've been teaching him to lap his milk and he's a fine scholar. His belly's full now and he'll sleep a while, but don't leave him alone too long. He's a mischievous one."

She knelt beneath the Christmas tree and put the basket around toward the back behind the other presents, half-hidden by the tree trunk. This, of course, was the climax, to be opened last—if the puppy himself would permit. She rose and held out her hand to Jenny's grandfather.

"I can never thank you enough." She could feel the rough hardness of his hand as he pressed hers. "We'll all thank you, ma'am, if you can fix it so he gets to keep this little fellow."

"I shall fix it," Lora said firmly. "But now I'd better go back before Mother Tyler sends someone to investigate."

She would not let him out the back way, but took him to the front door, and opened it for him. "Merry Christmas, Mr. Ambrose," she said.

"Just make it John," he told her. "I'd feel more comfortable. And Merry Christmas to all of you, Mrs. Tyler."

"Lora," she reminded him. "After all, John, we are friends."

He reached into his pocket just before he went down the steps and drew out a small tissue-wrapped package of his own.

"Will you do me the favor of putting this under the tree for the boy? He doesn't have a good knife of his own as every boy should, and this is a fine one."

"I know he'll be proud of it, John," Lora said, and took the package from him.

Mrs. Tyler looked up from her wistfulness, instantly suspicious. "Who was that? Why was he not brought into this room as I directed?"

Lora put a light hand on her arm. "Mother, this is Christmas. We're all permitted our secrets at Christmas time. And this is a secret no one can know about till later."

Mrs. Tyler snorted indignantly, but Lora saw only the shine in Jenny's eyes. No matter what happened, that shine must remain.

When they had all settled around the tree, the picking of packages to be opened began. They must each choose in turn, Lora said, and each package must be opened before they went on to the next. But first of all Jenny's stocking.

"Excitement's not good for the boy," Mrs. Tyler muttered as he took down the striped stocking and pulled out the contents eagerly. But no one paid any attention to her.

A famous reverend in New Zealand was Norman MacLeod who led a pioneering group of 600 Scotsmen to the new land a hundred years ago. He was 70 himself at the time, but possessed of all his vigor and strength. No man for frivolity, he threw any bagpipes on board into the sea the moment he found them. A few were smuggled in despite him.

At the age of 88, Reverend MacLeod caught an unfortunate member of his congregation napping during his sermon. "If ye cannot hear the words of the Lord," he roared, "then ye shall feel them," and he threw the Bible unerringly at the sinner's head.

Don't Attempt To Cure Foot Ills Yourself

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

DON'T cut your own corns. Surgical incision is the only sure method of curing corns, but let your doctor do it for you. He not only knows how, but he has the instruments to perform a clean, neat job.

Relieving Pressure

Actually, merely relieving pressure or friction might clear up some corns. The soft corns which occur between the toes are softened by the macerating action of sweat.

They occur where there is either pressure or friction. Removal of these sources may mean rapid and complete disappearance of the corns.

Hard corns are another matter. These occur on the external surface of the toes. The surface is shiny and polished.

Upper Layers

Shaving off the upper layers will reveal a core. It's this core which causes the dull, boring or sharp pain when it presses on underlying sensory nerves.

First thing to do, of course, is to get a pair of shoes which will not put pressure on your toes.

Tight shoes generally are the cause of most corns.

But this alone probably won't cure hard corns. Your doctor will have to pare the surface and remove the central core after first having you soak your feet in hot water. Then, he will paint the base of the corn with a 10 per cent silver nitrate solution.

To Protect Area

Applying a ring of soft felt wadding about the area should relieve all friction and pressure.

Some doctors treat corns with dichloroacetic acid and salicylic acid, but these treatments must be used very carefully.

Sometimes X-ray therapy is successful. However, you can't depend on it.

Facial Disfigurement Seen Key To Success For Some

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

If you break a leg on a ski slope this winter or mar your beauty by getting your nose bashed in—if you are afflicted by pimples, dandruff or milkmaid's knee — don't sit around and bemoan your fate.

This may be the turning point in your fortunes.

Some of today's most famous and successful career women have turned a misfortune into a bonanza.

There's Lydia O'Leary, for instance, who was born with a disfiguring birthmark and experimented until she developed a covering cosmetic which not only solved her personal problem but now is used all over the world to mask disfigurements. During the war she worked with many wounded service men who felt they could not face the world with the scars of war, and helped them to resume their normal lives.

There's Lilly Dache, who was impelled to start her own millinery business after losing her job as a salesgirl in a department store, and who developed her designing skill as a child, when she pinned fruit and flowers in her hair trying to be pretty as her sister.

And there's Georgette Klinger, who turned a teen-age case of acne into an international business.

Georgette, blonde, petite and highly decorative, won a case of cosmetics when she was crowned beauty queen of Budapest as a girl. The cosmetics didn't agree with her skin, and the state in which she found herself should never happen to a beauty queen.

Instead of feeling sorry for herself, Georgette decided to do something about it. She enrolled at the University of Budapest, concentrating on the skin and its care. While curing her own affliction she developed many new methods of skin treatment, and acquired a wide reputation as an expert in her field before coming to America in 1940.

Today Georgette's skin is as clear, smooth and lovely as that of any current beauty queen, and she has helped thousands of other women — and even some men — to correct skin blemishes.

Facial Disfigurement Seen Key To Success For Some

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
If you break a leg on a ski slope this winter or mar your beauty by getting your nose bashed in—if you are afflicted by pimples, dandruff or milkmaid's knee — don't sit around and bemoan your fate.

This may be the turning point in your fortunes.

Some of today's most famous and successful career women have turned a misfortune into a bonanza.

There's Lydia O'Leary, for instance, who was born with a disfiguring birthmark and experimented until she developed a covering cosmetic which not only solved her personal problem but now is used all over the world to mask disfigurements. During the war she worked with many wounded service men who felt they could not face the world with the scars of war, and helped them to resume their normal lives.

Super-Complex Weapons Cost Running High

Push-Button Gadgets Help Hike U.S. Bill For Its Own Defense

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Push-button warfare comes high. The indicated rise of one billion dollars in spending for defense dims the hope of businessmen today that the heavy load of taxation that business carries will be lightened.

The increasing costliness of today's super-complex weapons may also cut the chances of the individual taxpayer for much relief soon.

If you must blame someone, blame the scientists — their ideas grow costlier.

Business hopes for tax relief had grown out of the business boom itself. Gross earnings are so remarkably good and payrolls so high that the U. S. Treasury stands to take in next spring a billion or two more in tax collections than it had counted on when the budget was drawn up a year ago.

This golden flow seemed sure to balance the budget and perhaps leave room for tax relief — most likely at the individual income tax level, and possibly at the corporate income and excise tax level.

That was before the Russians turned their smiles in other directions and returned to calling Uncle Sam and his friends bad names. Defense needs are more apparent now than in the days of the "spirit of Geneva."

But the real coup de grace to the hopes that defense costs could be cut — rather than raised, as they now seem likely to be — was given by the scientists in our laboratories and testing grounds.

The new weapons of offense and defense that are being perfected in the age of atomic warfare, and guided missiles come with ever higher price tags.

If the cold war is back, as it seems to be, and Congress passes a 35½ billion dollar defense budget to be ready in a push-button age, business — and maybe you, too — will probably have to put your tax cut hopes off another year.

2 Ohio Paper Bag Makers Under Fire For 'Conspiracy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Ohio paper bag manufacturers were among 21 such companies accused by the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) recently of an illegal conspiracy.

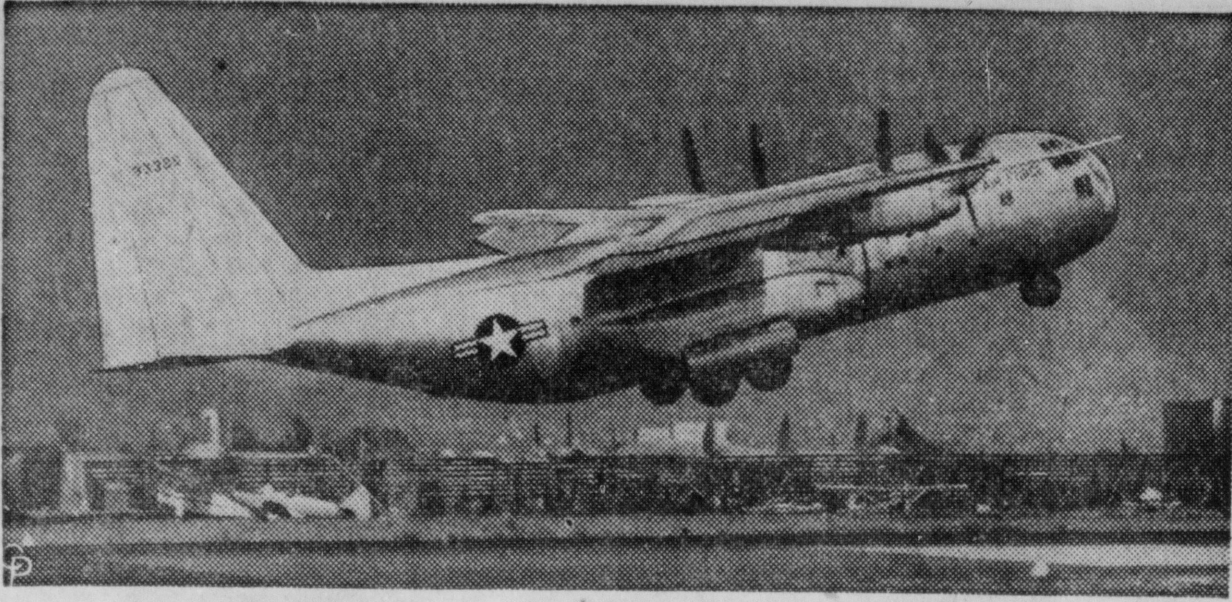

FTC said the companies tried to fix the prices of reinforced paper shipping sacks used for feed, fertilizer, cement, sugar and other bulk products.

The Thomas Phillips Co., Akron, Ohio, and Raymond Bag Co., Middletown, Ohio, were among those named in the FTC complaint which is answerable in 30 days. A hearing will be held in New York Feb. 7.

FTC charged the companies with using the same price formula, so that all customers pay the same delivered price regardless of freight costs.

Bowling's Top Essay Tells Benefits Of Conservation

George Bowling of Jackson Township school, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowling, was declared winner of the annual Soil Conservation Essay Contest conducted by the Pickaway County Soil Conservation District.

Bowling's essay will be entered in the state Farm Bureau Essay Contest to compete for top honors. Local winners were announced at the district's annual meeting.

The essay submitted by Larry Hines of Walnut Township school was awarded a close second place. Nancy Wilson of Pickaway Township school received third place honors. And Bonnie Neff of Monroe Township school wrote the fourth place winner.

The contest was sponsored by the conservation district, Pickaway County Farm Bureau, Pickaway Dairy, Pickaway Grain, and all of the county granges, in cooperation with the conservation and extension services.

Bowling's essay, entitled "Planning for the Future," follows:

Last spring my father bought a farm consisting of 125 acres which joined our home farm. This farm was badly eroded, and the former owner had been getting low yields from it.

We contacted the local Soil Conservation department to come out and map the complete area. The soil scientist took soil samples and found it to be a glacial limestone soil, which normally has eight to ten inches of top soil and a clay subsoil.

It was found that the topsoil over most of the area was only about four to five inches deep, showing that severe erosion had taken place.

The soil on this farm is a Crosby silt loam which was very mottled, indicating the severe need for good drainage. We decided to tile one side of the field at sixty-foot intervals and to leave the other side of the field untilled, so as to provide a check to show exactly what the tiling was doing for us.

WE PLACED four-inch laterals

Confession Made 'Just For Ride'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Harvey Lee Rush has admitted his "confession" that he killed 10-year-old Beverly Potts was a hoax.

He admitted he confessed the murder to Los Angeles police because it was "the only way I could get back to Cleveland." Deputy Inspector James E. McArthur said.

The 46-year-old Rush was flown from Los Angeles to Cleveland yesterday and told McArthur his story was a hoax as they rode in a police car from the airport to the police station. He said he just wanted to get to Cleveland to see his girl and get a job.

at a spacing of sixty feet with a grade of 0.2 to 0.3 foot per hundred feet. The mains were six-inch tile with a drop of 0.4 foot per hundred feet. All of this tile was placed at a depth of at least 30 inches.

Running through the field was a severely eroded ditch which carried all the water off this field and also another 150 acres above the ditch. We had a contractor come in and level out the ditch into a grass waterway.

The Soil Conservation Service decided that it would be necessary to have it 40 feet wide and two feet deep in order that all the water would be carried off at a non-erosive velocity. This waterway has a grade of six inches per hundred feet in the upper half and one and one-half feet per hundred feet in the bottom half.

We are going to seed this in meadow fescue at the rate of twenty pounds per acre. Legumes cannot be used in a waterway because they will not stand the water and will not hold the soil.

Since the lower part of the ditch was very badly eroded and overgrown, it would not help us any to straighten it. Therefore, we decided to let it remain as it is and use it for a game refuge. This area is

He'd Rather Go To Jail Than To Give Wife Cash

CLEVELAND (AP) — A railroad storekeeper says he would rather spend a year in the workhouse than give his wife $15 a week cash.

"I absolutely refuse to trust her with any money," 49-year-old Eugene Flanagan told Juvenile Judge Albert A. Woldman.

Flanagan said that for the first 15 years of their marriage, his wife handled the finances and got them $1,200 in debt.

"For the last two years," he said, "I have been handling all the money and I have the debt almost paid up."

The judge suggested Flanagan continue to handle all the money for his wife and three children, except he must give his wife $15 a week or go to the workhouse.

"All right, then, I'll go to jail," said Flanagan.

The judge sent him to county jail to "think it over."

Ohio Authority On Wrights Is Stickler For Accuracy

WASHINGTON (AP) — One Sunday evening, Fred C. Kelly was staring in disbelief at a television show.

The program that exasperated Kelly was a dramatization of the story of the Ohio aviation pioneers, Orville and Wilbur Wright.

"Every detail was inaccurate," Kelly recalled the other day. "It really was pretty bad. Why, they had Wilbur Wright in the plane making the first flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C."

"That's wrong. It was Orville," Kelly should know. For 30 years, he was a close friend of the late Orville Wright. And he is the author of the only authorized biography of the Wrights.

Author, free lance magazine writer and former newspaper columnist, Kelly now makes his home in suburban Kensington, Md. But he rarely is far from the story of the Dayton, Ohio brothers who started the world on its age of flight. In fact, he is in Kitty Hawk today helping commemorate that first scary takeoff just 52 years ago today.

Kelly was born in Xenia, Ohio, the son of Robert A. Kelly, a rope manufacturer. Xenia isn't too far from Dayton, where Kelly used to go to have his bicycle repaired in the middle 1890's.

But, as he puts it, he "missed

the boat" and never took his bike to the Wright bicycle shop. Year later, he found the Wrights repaired his brand of bicycle.

"It just made me sick that I never went there," he said ruefully.

So it wasn't until 1915 that Kelly's big moment came.

At the time, he was syndicated a newspaper gossip column out of Washington — patterned after one he wrote previously for the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

As he recalls it, Colliers magazine asked him to go to Dayton and interview Orville Wright about the role of aviation in the world war then in progress.

He did, gladly.

"And I knew at once," he says now, "that Orville Wright was the most intelligent man I'd ever met. That started a long friendship."

By the 1940's, Kelly had given up his column in Washington and had moved back to Ohio, to a farm in Peninsula, between Cleveland and Akron.

He saw a lot of Orville Wright in those days, and finally, after considerable urging, persuaded Orville to let him write what is considered an "authorized" biography — "The Wright Brothers."

This was followed by "Miracle at Kitty Hawk," a collection of letters written by the Wrights, and "How We Invented the Airplane," taken from a court deposition written by Orville Wright.

In all, he has published 19 books, including such varied matters as the psychology of dogs (he's a great dog lover, particularly stray dogs) and the psychology of scapulating in Wall Street.

He also has penned biographies of two Indiana humorists, George Ade and Kin Hubbard. He estimates he has written 1,000 magazine articles.

But in the months ahead he will have a new assignment. He's to be a consultant on the first feature film of the Wright Brothers story.

If Kelly has anything to say about it, he says you can be sure the details will be accurate.

Graduates Given Challenge At OSU

COLUMBUS (AP) — Graduates of universities must take the leadership in supplying stability and basic morality to the national fabric, Bishop Michael J. Ready says.

The bishop, head of the Catholic Diocese of Columbus, prepared his remarks for commencement exercises yesterday when 535 autumn quarter students were graduated at Ohio State University.

The bishop's speech was read by Msgr. Roland T. Winel of the Columbus Diocese after the bishop was hospitalized by a cerebral artery spasm. He was reported in satisfactory condition today.

2 Men Arrested, Wanted In Ohio

UDOWICI, Ga. (AP) — Two men picked up in Orlando, Fla., were to be returned to Hamilton, Ohio, today where they are wanted in connection with the slaying of 20-year-old Mrs. Mary Ellen Barger.

Long County Sheriff W. M. Jones said Lloyd Luther White, 22, and Darrell Fred Smith, 23, were released yesterday to Robert Welch, night chief of police at Hamilton.

The sheriff said the pair is also wanted in Cincinnati for assault with intent to murder, in Elkins, W. Va., on a burglary charge and in Van Wert, Ohio, where they were out on $1,000 bond in a burglary case.

Super-Complex Weapons Cost Running High

Push-Button Gadgets Help Hike U.S. Bill For Its Own Defense

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Push-button warfare comes high. The indicated rise of one billion dollars in spending for defense dims the hope of businessmen today that the heavy load of taxation that business carries will be lightened.

The increasing costliness of today's super-complex weapons may also cut the chances of the individual taxpayer for much relief soon.

If you must blame someone, blame the scientists — their ideas grow costlier.

Business hopes for tax relief had grown out of the business boom itself. Gross earnings are so remarkably good and payrolls so high that the U. S. Treasury stands to take in next spring a billion or two more in tax collections than it had counted on when the budget was drawn up a year ago.

This golden flow seemed sure to balance the budget and perhaps leave room for tax relief — most likely at the individual income tax level, and possibly at the corporate income and excise tax level.

That was before the Russians turned their smiles in other directions and returned to calling Uncle Sam and his friends bad names. Defense needs are more apparent now than in the days of the "spirit of Geneva."

But the real coup de grace to the hopes that defense costs could be cut — rather than raised, as they now seem likely to be — was given by the scientists in our laboratories and testing grounds.

The new weapons of offense and defense that are being perfected in the age of atomic warfare and guided missiles come with ever higher price tags.

If the cold war is back, as it seems to be, and Congress passes a 35½ billion dollar defense budget to be ready in a push-button age, business — and maybe you, too — will probably have to put your tax cut hopes off another year.

2 Ohio Paper Bag Makers Under Fire For 'Conspiracy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Ohio paper bag manufacturers were among 21 such companies accused by the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) recently of an illegal conspiracy.

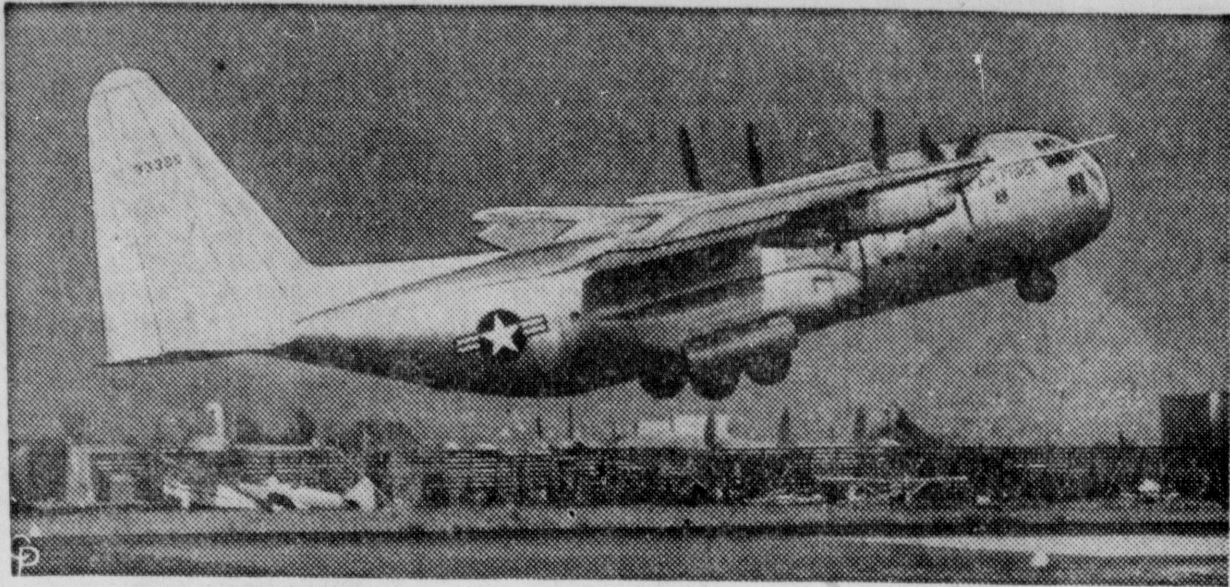

FTC said the companies tried to fix the prices of reinforced paper shipping sacks used for feed, fertilizer, cement, sugar and other bulk products.

The Thomas Phillips Co., Akron, Ohio, and Raymond Bag Co., Middletown, Ohio, were among those named in the FTC complaint which is answerable in 30 days. A hearing will be held in New York Feb. 7.

FTC charged the companies with using the same price formula, so that all customers pay the same delivered price regardless of freight costs.

Bowling's Top Essay Tells Benefits Of Conservation

George Bowling of Jackson Township school, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowling, was declared winner of the annual Soil Conservation Essay Contest conducted by the Pickaway County Soil Conservation District.

Bowling's essay will be entered in the state Farm Bureau Essay Contest to compete for top honors. Local winners were announced at the district's annual meeting.

The essay submitted by Larry Hines of Walnut Township school was awarded a close second place. Nancy Wilson of Pickaway Township school received third place honors. And Bonnie Neff of Monroe Township school wrote the fourth place winner.

The contest was sponsored by the conservation district, Pickaway County Farm Bureau, Pickaway Dairy, Pickaway Grain, and all of the county granges, in cooperation with the conservation and extension services.

Bowling's essay, entitled "Planning for the Future," follows:

Last spring my father bought a farm consisting of 125 acres which joined our home farm. This farm was badly eroded, and the former owner had been getting low yields from it.

We contacted the local Soil Conservation department to come out and map the complete area. The soil scientist took soil samples and found it to be a glacial limestone soil, which normally has eight to ten inches of top soil and a clay subsoil.

It was found that the topsoil over most of the area was only about four to five inches deep, showing that severe erosion had taken place.

The soil on this farm is a Crosby silt loam which was very mottled, indicating the severe need for good drainage. We decided to tile one side of the field at sixty-foot intervals and to leave the other side of the field untilled, so as to provide a check to show exactly what the tilling was doing for us.

WE PLACED four-inch laterals

Confession Made 'Just For Ride'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Harvey Lee Rush has admitted his "confession" that he killed 10-year-old Beverly Potts was a hoax.

He admitted he confessed the murder to Los Angeles police because it was "the only way I could get back to Cleveland," Deputy Inspector James E. McArthur said.

The 46-year-old Rush was flown from Los Angeles to Cleveland yesterday and told McArthur his story was a hoax as they rode in a police car from the airport to the police station. He said he just wanted to get to Cleveland to see his girl and get a job.

at a spacing of sixty feet with a grade of 0.2 to 0.3 foot per hundred feet. The mains were six-inch tile with a drop of 0.4 foot per hundred feet. All of this tile was placed at a depth of at least 30 inches.

Running through the field was a severely eroded ditch which carried all the water off this field and also another 150 acres above the ditch. We had a contractor come in and level out the ditch into a grass waterway.

The Soil Conservation Service decided that it would be necessary to have it 40 feet wide and two feet deep in order that all the water would be carried off at a non-erosive velocity. This waterway has a grade of six inches per hundred feet in the upper half and one and one-half feet per hundred feet in the bottom half.

We are going to seed this in meadow Fescue at the rate of twenty pounds per acre. Legumes cannot be used in a waterway because they will not stand the water and will not hold the soil.

Since the lower part of the ditch was very badly eroded and overgrown, it would not help us any to straighten it. Therefore, we decided to let it remain as it is and use it for a game refuge. This area is very good for this purpose because it has a very dense brush on both sides, offering ample shelter and protection for game.

It also has water and food nearby at all times. The birds in this refuge will be helpful in that they will go out into the fields and eat many of the insects that plague our crops.

THE WATER which came from the land above this ditch passed under a road through four large tiles. We constructed a catch basin, drained by an eight-inch tile which ran down the side of the waterway.

This tile was designed to remove the normal flow of water from the four tile and then allow the rest of the water to go over the waterway at a reduced rate, therefore holding erosion to a minimum.

The Soil Conservation Service planned a rotation crop plan which consisted of: corn two years, wheat one year, and hay and pasture two years. This plan worked out best for us because we raise a large number of beef cattle and need the extra pasture and corn.

The pasture on this farm was very poor, and since we need it for cattle, we immediately took steps to renovate it. It will be limed to the necessary pH factor so that it will grow good grass. Next Spring we will plow it very shallow, at a depth of three to four inches, and fertilize it at the rate of five to six hundred pounds of 3-12-12 per acre.

We will seed it in birdsfoot trefoil using a band-seeding method. By using birdsfoot trefoil we hope to get a pasture which will still produce forage for cattle during the dry months of July and August.

The band seeding method is advantageous because it puts the seed close to the fertilizer to give the young plants that early boost which it needs.

THERE ARE about 15 acres of woodland on this farm. The Soil Conservation technician recommended that we fence off this area and use it for a woodlot. We felt that we needed some of this area for cattle to use for shelter in the winter and shade in the summer, therefore we fenced off about ten acres for a woodlot and used the rest of the area for cattle.

We believe that the practices outlined for use on this land are very good and that they will pay for themselves many times over. We are planning to tile our whole farm in the same manner as we have done this part; but since this would involve considerable expense, we have decided to do it over a period of years.

He'd Rather Go To Jail Than To Give Wife Cash

CLEVELAND (AP) — A railroad storekeeper says he would rather spend a year in the workhouse than give his wife $15 a week cash.

"I absolutely refuse to trust her with any money," 49-year-old Eugene Flanagan told Juvenile Judge Albert A. Woldman.

Flanagan said that for the first 15 years of their marriage, his wife handled the finances and got them $1,200 in debt.

"For the last two years," he said, "I have been handling all the money and I have the debt almost paid up."

The judge suggested Flanagan continue to handle all the money for his wife and three children, except he must give his wife $15 a week or go to the workhouse.

"All right, then, I'll go to jail," said Flanagan.

The judge sent him to county jail to "think it over."

Ohio Authority On Wrights Is Sticker For Accuracy

WASHINGTON (AP) — One Sunday evening, Fred C. Kelly was staring in disapproval at a television show.

The program that exasperated Kelly was a dramatization of the story of the Ohio aviation pioneers, Orville and Wilbur Wright.

"Every detail was inaccurate," Kelly recalled the other day. "It really was pretty bad. Why, they had Wilbur Wright in the plane making the first flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C."

"That's wrong. It was Orville." Kelly should know. For 30 years, he was a close friend of the late Orville Wright. And he is the author of the only authorized biography of the Wrights.

Author, free lance magazine writer and former newspaper columnist, Kelly now makes his home in suburban Kensington, Md. But he rarely is far from the story of the Dayton, Ohio brothers who started the world on its age of flight. In fact, he is in Kitty Hawk today helping commemorate that first scary takeoff just 52 years ago today.

Kelly was born in Xenia, Ohio, the son of Robert A. Kelly, a rope manufacturer. Xenia isn't too far from Dayton, where Kelly used to go to have his bicycle repaired in the middle 1890's.

But, as he puts it, he "missed

the boat" and never took his bike to the Wright bicycle shop. Year later, he found the Wrights repaired his brand of bicycle.

"It just made me sick that I never went there," he said ruefully. So it wasn't until 1915 that Kelly's big moment came.

At the time, he was syndicated a newspaper gossip column out of Washington — patterned after one he wrote previously for the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

As he recalls it, Colliers magazine asked him to go to Dayton and interview Orville Wright about the role of aviation in the world war then in progress.

He did, gladly. "And I knew at once," he says now, "that Orville Wright was the most intelligent man I'd ever met. That started a long friendship."

By the 1940's, Kelly had given up his column in Washington and had moved back to Ohio, to a farm in Peninsula, between Cleveland and Akron.

He saw a lot of Orville Wright in those days, and finally, after considerable urging, persuaded Orville to let him write what is considered an "authorized" biography — "The Wright Brothers."

This was followed by "Miracle at Kitty Hawk," a collection of letters written by the Wrights, and "How We Invented the Airplane," taken from a court deposition written by Orville Wright.

In all, he has published 19 books, including such varied matters as the psychology of dogs (he's a great dog lover, particularly stray dogs) and the psychology of speculating in Wall Street.

He also has penned biographies of two Indiana humorists, George Ade and Kin Hubbard. He estimates he has written 1,000 magazine articles.

But in the months ahead he will have a new assignment. He's to be a consultant on the first feature film of the Wright Brothers story.

If Kelly has anything to say about it, he says you can be sure the details will be accurate.

Graduates Given Challenge At OSU

COLUMBUS (AP) — Graduates of universities must take the leadership in supplying stability and basic morality to the national fabric, Bishop Michael J. Ready says.

The bishop, head of the Catholic Diocese of Columbus, prepared his remarks for commencement exercises yesterday when 535 autumn quarter students were graduated at Ohio State University.

The bishop's speech was read by Msgr. Roland T. Winel of the Columbus Diocese after the bishop was hospitalized by a cerebral artery spasm. He was reported in satisfactory condition today.

Circleville Beaten In First SCOL Test

Blue Lions Win Wild 54-43 Contest; Kittens Take Reserve Game 60-49

Lee took Circleville like Grant took Richmond!

Lanky Dave Lee led Washington C. H. to a 54-43 victory over the Tigers Friday night. The Blue Lions center not only dunked 23 points through the hoops but took the major share of both offensive and defensive rebounds.

The night was not a total loss, however. The CHS Kittens won their third game in a row by downing the WCH 60 to 49. The Kittens nearly blew a 12-point lead but put on the power in the fourth quarter to win.

In the varsity tilt, the Tigers were thoroughly outplayed. Their two weeks layoff seemed to affect their timing and their shooting - CHS made only 12 of 53 field goal attempts.

WCH JUMPED off to an early lead and were never headed. It looked like a runaway as the Blue Lions held a 19-7 lead at the end of the first period, mainly on the shooting of Lee and Dick English.

In the second frame, the Tigers began to slowly pull up - but it was not with goals. CHS made nine of 14 foul shot attempts to pull up within nine points at the half.

However, the Fayette Countians poured on the coals in the third period and used the foul line to their own advantage as they sank seven of nine free throws.

WCH coach Herb Russell, in his first year at the school, virtually emptied his bench towards the end of the wild contest. The Tigers tried valiantly but it was a case of too little and too late.

Not that it would have made any difference in the final outcome of the game but the officiating was so poor that fights nearly broke out several times. Circleville's Jim McConnell finally drew a technical foul near the end of the game and this did little to promote

Ashville Rolls To 9th Straight Victory, 78-58

Undefeated Ashville rolled up its ninth straight victory of the season by downing the battling Pickaway Pirates 78-58 in a county league contest played on the Ashville floor Friday night.

In a hectic first quarter, both teams kept the packed fans howling as the score changed hands five times. At one time in this quarter, Pickaway held a five-point advantage but this was shaved down to one point at the quarter mark.

However, in the second quarter, the Broncos immediately took a one-point lead and romped away as the Pirates unsuccessfully tried to stem the tide. A rugged man-to-man defense employed by Ashville hurt the Pirates as they were able to make only 15 points in the second and third quarters.

Neil Echard and Herb Miller were big factors in Pickaway's first quarter ability to keep pace with the high-scoring Broncos. However, both incurred three personal fouls early in the second quarter and were handicapped the rest of the way. Both fouled out in the third period and the score tells the rest of the story.

PICKAWAY'S inability to get its share of rebounds because of Echard's and Miller's personal foul handicaps was a big factor in the 20-point victory margin of Ashville. Myers, playing one of his best games in a Bronco uniform, sunk 22 points shooting from well out from the basket to carry the scoring load for Ashville. He was assisted by Curry who gathered 18 points.

High man for Pickaway was Dave Smith who hit 13 points which is below par for him. Ashville's reservists picked up their sixth straight league triumph in easy fashion, 48-33.

THE KITTENS started off as if they would run away with their reserve game. After piling up a 21-9 lead in the opening period, they saw it dwindle to a margin of only 33-28 at the half.

Roger Shaleford nearly pulled the game out of the fire for WCH as he poured 31 points through the buckets. The Blue Lions had the score 48-46 half way through the final frame but Fred Garner pumped in three field goals to spark a rally.

Garner, Mike Hosler and Jon Pacher divided scoring honors. Garner had 23 points, Hosler 16 and Pacher 15.

WCH now has a 4-2 record and is 1-1 in SCOL play. The loss broke Circleville's win streak of two games and gave them an 0-1 record in the SCOL.

Darby Upsets Scioto Quintet In 66-58 Win

With the officials wearing out their whistles, Darby's Trojans pulled somewhat of an upset Friday night as they corralled the Scioto Buffaloes, 66-58, in a county league game played at Darby.

Scioto built up a 20-12 first quarter advantage but the Trojans put on a fancy shooting display in the second stanza making 31 points to take a 43-31 half-time lead.

The second half was almost even with Scioto making four points more than Darby but the bulge built by the Trojans was too much to overcome.

The win upped Darby's league slate to 3-2 and evened Scioto's slate at 3-3.

A total of 82 foul shots were taken, 41 by each team and each quintet made good on only 20 of them. Six players, three from each team, went out of the contest via the foul route. Many of the fouls were called early in the game, thus hampering the efforts of both teams.

SCORING honors went to Delbert Neff who tossed in 23 points with teammate Roger Knapp close behind with 22. High man for Darby was Hill with 19 points and teammate Johnson hit for 15 points.

Darby's reservists, hitting only nine of 32 foul shots, dropped their first game of the year by two points, 43-41.

Dupas Is Amazing Foe For Lightburn

NEW YORK (AP)—If Ralph Dupas could punch as fast as he can move, nobody in the 135-pound division would beat him.

Ludwig Lightburn, an unranked invader from British Honduras who won a unanimous 10-round decision over the 20-year-old New Orleans lightweight last night, is the slightly dazed authority.

Lightburn admitted in the dressing room he was puzzled by Dupas' frequent shifts from southpaw to right-handed style.

"Who ever saw a man jab you with a left and then turn around and jab you with a right?" he asked. "If he could punch as fast as he runs, wow!"

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—Jim Ferree, golfing son of a golfing father, is one of the newest professionals on the tournament circuit. But he won't remain an unknown long if he continues to play the kind of golf he shot in the first two rounds of the $15,000 Sanford Open.

The 24-year-old freshman pro from Winston-Salem, N. C., was one of five golfers riding hard on Sam Snead's heels.

Bunched with Ferree at 135, one behind Snead, were Leo Biagetti of Willoughby, Ohio; Al Balding of Ontario, Canada; Walker Inman Jr. of Augusta, Ga.; and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill.

Bulldogs Win Third Straight League Game

New Holland's Bulldogs edged out a stubborn Atlanta quintet, 63-58, in a county league contest played Friday night at Atlanta.

The Red Raiders were behind most of the time but were able to tie the score several times. The score was knotted at 15-11 at the end of the first quarter and at half-time, New Holland held a four point advantage.

This was narrowed to two points at the third quarter mark but the Bulldogs wouldn't be denied as they picked up their third league win in a row.

Both teams hit for 24 field goals but the Bulldogs dropped in 15 of 34 foul tries for the margin of victory. The Red Raiders hit the nets for ten fouls out of 19 attempts.

A BIG factor in the Bulldog win was Oesterle who took scoring honors with 19 points. Sixteen of his points were made in the second half.

High man for Atlanta was Roberts with 16 points. He and Carter were outstanding in rebounding with Carter turning in a stellar performance in his playmaking. Large, who made 18 points, also turned in a fine rebounding performance.

New Holland's undefeated reservists ran their win streak to nine games with a convincing 37-18 triumph over Atlanta.

Pre-Game Jitters Hard On Graham

CLEVELAND (AP)—Otto Graham says it's not age nor fading ability that's sending him into retirement, but increasing pre-game jitters.

"So much depends on me," explained the 34-year-old quarterback of the Cleveland Browns, who are practicing in the snow for the Dec. 26 National Football League championship game against the Rams in Los Angeles.

Graham says this will be his last game for the Browns because those pre-game butterflies in the stomach are getting worse.

"I don't worry about it during the week," he explained. "It's the day of the game that gets me."

Parseghian Named Coach Of Wildcats

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Northwestern University, reeling aimlessly in Big Ten football circles, reached into the "minor leagues" yesterday and named Miami's Ara Parseghian head football coach.

Athletic director Stu Holcomb, former Miami and Purdue football coach, chose the highly successful Parseghian in an attempt to bring back the Wildcats to football prominence.

Parseghian, who at 32 becomes the youngest grid coach in the Big Ten, succeeds Lou Saban, who took over last year when Bob Voigts resigned because of pressure.

Holcomb was hired athletic director last week, succeeding Ted Paysuer who was named an assistant business manager in charge of athletic promotions.

Holcomb's first act was to fire Saban and his assistants, a crew under which Northwestern failed to win a single football game for the first time in modern NU history.

Holcomb, who coached at Miami in 1941, said "we are obtaining the services of one of the finest young coaches in football today."

Parseghian, who signed a three-year contract, had a 39-61 record at Miami in five years, including victories over Northwestern this season and Indiana in 1954.

Miami was undefeated in nine games this year.

A product of Akron, Parseghian played Navy football under Paul Brown and then went to Miami where he participated in football, basketball and baseball.

He joined the Cleveland Browns in 1948 and two years later returned to Miami as an assistant to Woody Hayes. Hayes moved to Ohio State in 1951 and Parseghian became head coach.

Rally Gives Saltcreek '5' 68-61 Victory

With Van Fossen scorching the nets for 28 points, Saltcreek Warriors stalked out the Walnut Tigers to defeat them 68-61 in a county league game played Friday at Walnut.

Walnut led most of the first three quarters but Saltcreek put on a stirring rally in the final period to erase a one-point deficit and go on to win by seven points.

Spearheading the second half attack of Saltcreek was Hardman, who dropped in 15 of his 17 points in this period.

A total of 79 foul shots were taken with Saltcreek hitting on 24 of 40 and Walnut dropping in 27 of 39.

HIGH man for Walnut was Dick Riegel with 20 points. Hurley was second high for the Tigers with 14 points, ten of them coming via the foul line.

In a hair-raising reserve game, Walnut squeezed out a 42-41 victory over the Saltcreek reservists.

Marquette '5' Almost Clips Mighty Dons

CHICAGO (AP)—Memo to Marquette coach Jack Nagle: If you're going to ambush somebody, pal, don't send 'em an engraved invitation.

Nagle, who jumped into national collegiate prominence last season with the Warriors, didn't leave much to the imagination as he indicated he thought his boys were a match for San Francisco and All-America Bill Russell. He allowed as how the Warriors, if they could give the 6-10 Russell a go under the boards, might spring an upset when the Dons carried their 29-game winning streak and No. 1 ranking into the DePaul tournament in Chicago Stadium.

Blue Lions Win Wild 54-43 Contest; Kittens Take Reserve Game 60-49

Lee took Richmond!

Lanky Dave Lee led Washington C. H. to a 54-43 victory over the Tigers Friday night. The Blue Lions center not only dunked 23 points through the hoops but took the major share of both offensive and defensive rebounds.

The night was not a total loss, however. The CHS Kittens won their third game in a row by downing the WCH 60 to 49. The Kittens nearly broke a 12-point lead but put on the power in the fourth quarter to win.

In the varsity tilt, the Tigers were thoroughly outplayed. Their two weeks layoff seemed to affect their timing and their shooting — CHS made only 12 of 53 field goal attempts.

WCH JUMPED off to an early lead and were never headed. It looked like a runaway as the Blue Lions held a 19-7 lead at the end of the first period, mainly on the shooting of Lee and Dick English.

In the second frame, the Tigers began to slowly pull up — but in 14 foul shot attempts to pull up within nine points at the half.

However, the Fayette Cougars poured on the coals in the third period and used the foul line to their own advantage as they sank seven of nine free throws.

WCH coach Herb Russell, in his first year at the school, virtually emptied his bench towards the end of the wild contest. The Tigers tried valiantly but it was a case of too little and too late.

Not that it would have made any difference in the final outcome of the game but the officiating was so poor that fights nearly broke out several times. Circleville's Jim McConnell finally drew a technical foul near the end of the game and this did little to promote

Ashville Rolls To 9th Straight Victory, 78-58

Undefeated Ashville rolled up its ninth straight victory of the season by downing the battling Pickaway Pirates 78-58 in a county league contest played on the Ashville floor Friday night.

In a hectic first quarter, both teams kept the packed fans howling as the score changed hands five times. At one time in this quarter, Pickaway held a five-point advantage but this was shaved down to one point at the quarter mark.

However, in the second quarter, the Broncos immediately took a one-point lead and romped away as the Pirates unsuccessfully tried to stem the tide. A rugged man-to-man defense employed by Ashville hurt the Pirates as they were able to make only 15 points in the second and third quarters.

Neil Echard and Herb Miller were big factors in Pickaway's first quarter ability to keep pace with the high-scoring Broncos. However, both incurred three personal fouls early in the second quarter and were handicapped the rest of the way. Both fouled out in the third period and the score tells the rest of the story.

PICKAWAY'S inability to get its share of rebounds because of Echard's and Miller's personal foul handicaps was a big factor in the 20-point victory margin of Ashville. Myers, playing one of his best games in a Bronco uniform, sunk 22 points shooting from well out from the basket to carry the scoring load for Ashville. He was assisted by Curry who gathered 18 points.

High man for Pickaway was Dave Smith who hit 13 points which is below par for him. Ashville's reservists picked up their sixth straight league triumph in easy fashion, 48-33.

THE KITTENS started off as if they would run away with their reserve game. After piling up a 21-9 lead in the opening period, they saw it dwindle to a margin of only 33-28 at the half.

Roger Shaleford nearly pulled the game out of the fire for WCH as he poured 31 points through the buckets. The Blue Lions had the score 48-46 half way through the final frame but Fred Garner pumped in three field goals to spark a rally.

Garner, Mike Hosler and Jon Pacher divided scoring honors. Garner had 23 points, Hosler 16 and Pacher 15.

WCH now has a 4-2 record and is 1-1 in SCOL play. The loss broke Circleville's win streak of two games and gave them an 0-1 record in the SCOL.

Darby Upsets Scioto Quintet In 66-58 Win

With the officials wearing out their whistles, Darby's Trojans pulled somewhat of an upset Friday night as they corralled the Scioto Buffaloes, 66-58, in a county league game played at Darby.

Scioto built up a 20-12 first quarter advantage but the Trojans put on a fancy shooting display in the second stanza making 31 points to take a 43-31 half-time lead.

The second half was almost even with Scioto making four points more than Darby but the bulk built by the Trojans was too much to overcome.

The win upped Darby's league slate to 3-2 and evened Scioto's slate at 3-3.

A total of 82 foul shots were taken, 41 by each team and each quintet made good on only 20 of them. Six players, three from each team, went out of the contest via the foul route. Many of the fouls were called early in the game, thus hampering the efforts of both teams.

SCORING honors went to Delbert Neff who tossed in 23 points with teammate Roger Knapp close behind with 22. High man for Darby was Hill with 19 points and teammate Johnson hit for 15 points.

Darby's reservists, hitting only nine of 32 foul shots, dropped their first game of the year by two points, 43-41.

Dupas Is Amazing Foe For Lightburn

NEW YORK (AP)—If Ralph Dupas could punch as fast as he can move, nobody in the 135-pound division would beat him.

Ludwig Lightburn, an unranked invader from British Honduras who won a unanimous 10-round decision over the 20-year-old New Orleans lightweight last night, is the slightly dazed authority.

Lightburn admitted in the dressing room he was puzzled by Dupas' frequent shifts from southpaw to right-handed style.

"Who ever saw a man jab you with a left and then turn around and jab you with a right?" he asked. "If he could punch as fast as he runs, wow!"

Ferree On Snead's Heels In Sanford

SANFORD, Fla. (AP)—Jim Ferree, golfing son of a golfing father, is one of the newest professionals on the tournament circuit. But he won't remain an unknown long if he continues to play the kind of golf he shot in the first two rounds of the $15,000 Sanford Open.

The 24-year-old freshman pro from Winston-Salem, N. C., was one of five golfers riding hard on Sam Snead's heels.

Bunched with Ferree at 135, one behind Snead, were Leo Biagetti of Willoughby, Ohio; Al Balding of Ontario, Canada; Walker Inman Jr. of Augusta, Ga.; and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill.

Bulldogs Win Third Straight League Game

New Holland's Bulldogs edged out a stubborn Atlanta quintet, 63-58, in a county league contest played Friday night at Atlanta.

The Red Raiders were behind most of the time but were able to tie the score several times. The score was knotted at 15-15 at the end of the first quarter and at half-time, New Holland held a four point advantage.

This was narrowed to two points at the third quarter mark but the Bulldogs wouldn't be denied as they picked up their third league win in a row.

Both teams hit for 24 field goals but the Bulldogs dropped in 15 of 34 foul tries for the margin of victory. The Red Raiders hit the nets for 19 fouls out of 19 attempts.

A BIG factor in the Bulldog win was Oesterle who took scoring honors with 19 points. Sixteen of his points were made in the second half.

High man for Atlanta was Roberts with 16 points. He and Carter were outstanding in rebounding with Carter turning in a stellar performance in his playmaking. Large, who made 15 points, also turned in a fine rebounding performance.

New Holland's undefeated reservists ran their win streak to nine games with a convincing 37-18 triumph over Atlanta.

Marquette almost pulled it off last night. But in the end, it was San Francisco by 65-58. Russell was Santa — he had it in the bag. There was an upset at the Stadium, but host DePaul pulled it off, knocking over previously unbeaten and sixth-ranked Duquesne 68-64. The Blue Demons, who lost to Kentucky by one point at week's start, dumped in 10 free throws in the final 4 minutes.

San Francisco qualified for the "title" game of the tourney against DePaul as the Dons opened their eastern tour with a second-half surge led by Russell.

Duquesne, despite Sam Green's 22 points, couldn't pass DePaul although thrice catching the Demons in the second half. DePaul, now 4-2, put down the Dukes' final bid with 2 minutes remaining.

Scott Frost Awarded Rating Of Harness Horse Of Year

COLUMBUS—Scoring as handsomely as he did all season on the race track, Scott Frost has been named Harness Horse of the Year by a panel of 103 turf writers polled by the U. S. Trotting Association.

The 3-year-old trotting son of Hoot Mon, owned by Saul Camp of Shafter, Cal., registered the highest point total in the history of the poll and was returned a landslide winner over Adios Harry, the only other horse given serious consideration.

Scott Frost collared 75 first place votes with 27 going to Adios Harry and the other to Quick Chief. On a 10-7-5-3-1 basis, Scott Frost rolled up a record 924 points followed by Adios Harry with 695.

Here is a rundown of the 1955 poll with horse, first place votes in parentheses, owner and total poll points:

1. Scott Frost, (75), S. A. Camp, Shafter, Cal., 924.
2. Adios Harry, (27), J. Howard Lyons, Greenwood, Del., 695.
3. Quick Chief, (1), John Froehlich, Brookville, N. Y., 202.
4. Diamond Hal, S. A. Camp, 151.
5. Adios Boy, J. S. Turner Est., Nassawadox, Va., 131.
6. Belle Acton, George Landers, Kittery, Me., 111.
7. Kimberly Kid, Allwood Stable, Far Hills, N. J., 85.
8. Times Square, Eddie Kirk, Washington C. H., Ohio, 49.
9. Galophone, W. T. Maybury, Dexter, Me., 45.

Designation as the standardbred sport's Horse of the Year climaxed for Scott Frost one of the most fabulous seasons in harness racing history.

With little Joe O'Brien at the reins, the bay colt won every major 3-year-old trotting stake including the Triple Crown trio of the $86,000 Hambletonian, $73,000 Yonkers Futurity and $62,000 Kentucky Futurity. He then wound up the season by defeating aged stars in the $75,000 American Trotting Classic at Hollywood Park. The latter feat was unprecedented in the sport.

Scott Frost earned $186,101, by far the most ever banked by a harness horse in a single season, as he sped to 23 wins, two seconds and a third in 28 starts. He never lost a race to a 3-year-old and, actually, lost only one race all year, that an overnight event against aged horses. The remaining losses came in heats of races which he subsequently won.

The son of Hoot Mon also registered three 2.00 race miles, the first time that a 3-year-old trotter has posted more than one in a single season.

The award was the second for Scott Frost within a week. He had previously won the U. S. Harness Writers' Association's Headliner award.

Best individual effort in Ivy League football was the game Red's Bagnell of Penn played against Dartmouth in 1950. The halfback made 450 yards.

Navy tackle Tony Anthony's full name is Anthony Arthur Anthony.

Chief Merriman Urges All Motorists To Use More Caution

Poor Weather, Icy Highways Reasons Listed

Pedestrians Warned They Must Look Out For Oncoming Cars

Present bad weather and the advent of the holiday season upcoming have prompted Chief of Police Elmer Merriman to ask motorists to use more caution.

He reminded drivers that some streets are still slippery—"stopping distance on snow or ice is from 3 to 12 times greater than on dry pavement." He pointed to two accidents earlier this week in which a car was unable to stop in time to avoid striking a youngster—both skidded on the city street.

Another safety hint given by the chief is for motorists to turn on their lights as soon as it begins to get dark. He said that a driver can start out with "running" lights at dusk and then to bright lights when it gets dark.

Chief Merriman urged motorists to keep their vehicles in the best possible condition. He said that a good set of tire chains or snow tires "are worth their weight in gold."

"IN WEATHER like we're having with your windows closed," the chief said, "it's hard to hear train whistles, other horns or even sirens. So you have to keep your speed down and look as well as listen."

Chief Merriman also had a warning for pedestrians. He said that pedestrians should realize that in this kind of weather a driver's visibility is cut down a great deal.

He said that running out from between parked cars is dangerous. He pointed out that an eight-year old girl was struck on E. Main St. because of this.

"Just because you have special equipment on your car don't think you can't get into an accident," the chief declared. "Those things help but the driver has to know how to use them."

Chief Merriman again issued a warning against driving while drunk. He pointed out that taking even one drink might mean the difference in whether or not an accident happens in this kind of weather.

"IT MAY warm the driver up," he said, "but it could put someone else on a cold slab."

The chief said that windshield wipers and defrosters should be checked to see if they are in good operating condition. (The National Safety Council has reported that in one out of 10 fatal accidents in 1953 the driver's vision was obstructed in some way.)

"There's a lot more traffic through here on the weekends," Chief Merriman pointed out. "It's sure a lot better to start earlier and go slower to make sure you get where you're going."

Acid Truck Hit By NYC Train

NORWALK (AP)—A New York Central train loaded with Christmas mail smashed into a truck loaded with sulphuric acid in near-by Greenwich yesterday. Nobody was injured seriously.

The collision demolished the truck, and broke the locomotive loose from the mail cars.

The engineer and fireman, temporarily blinded by sulphuric acid fumes, were unable to stop the runaway locomotive until it had traveled two miles. Automatic brakes stopped the mail cars within a few hundred yards after the locomotive broke loose.

Fishing Town Finds Bonanza In Home Bay

ARARI, Japan (AP)—This sleepy fishing hamlet south of Tokyo was reaping an unexpected harvest today—a school of 2,000 dolphins.

Each dolphin is about five feet long and worth more than $5. The $10,000 marine bonanza is real riches to 2,600 persons who wrest a meager living from the sea.

A lookout spotted the school Tuesday and aroused the villagers. Every able-bodied man, woman and child took to the boats.

They formed a ring around the school of big marine mammals and, beating madly on empty tin cans, drove them into Arari Bay. Then they sealed the entrance with their tiny boats.

About 599 dolphins flopped onto the white sandy beach. Villagers rushed there to market.

The village headman ordered the others left to swim in the natural aquarium. He cautioned: "We'll ruin the price if we take them out all at once."

Fishermen predict the school will last for weeks if harvested slowly.

Army Pvt. Jack L. Timmons, 21, son of Mrs. Louise A. Timmons, of 477 Oakwood Ave., Columbus, recently arrived in Korea and is now a member of the First Corps.

An intensive post-peace training program is supervised by that corps for the UN units under its control.

Timmons, a wireman in the 969th Field Artillery Battalion's Headquarters Battery, entered the Army in January 1955 and received basic training at Fort Knox, Ky.

Timmons, whose father, Russell A. Timmons, lives near Mount Sterling, attended Wilmington College.

Winds Freshen In Favor Of Frank Lausche

Ohio Governor's Nod To 'Favorite Son' Role Brings Quick Backing

COLUMBUS (AP)—When Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche announced this week that he would accept the "favorite son" mantle from Ohio Democrats, political winds in his favor freshened quickly.

In Indiana, Charles H. Boswell, who will become Indianapolis city controller Jan. 1, announced he will seek election as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention to support Lausche for the presidential nomination.

Boswell served as city Democratic chairman in the successful campaign of Mayor-elect Phillip L. Bayt. The latter said he would do nothing to curtail Boswell's activity for Lausche, and added, "I know of no two men who think as much alike in politics as Boswell and myself."

In Massachusetts, former State Rep. James J. Burke announced plans for a "Lausche for President" committee. He said "the response has been excellent."

Democratic leaders in the South and elsewhere previously described Lausche as a presidential prospect, especially if a deadlock developed at the national nominating convention in Chicago next August.

They expressed a preference for Lausche as a conservative over other current prospects whom they termed "too liberal."

Lausche's care to avoid an outright presidential declaration was in keeping with his oft-repeated belief that "High public office does not come to him who avidly seeks it."

Ohio's only governor ever to win more than three terms accepted the role of "favorite son" presidential candidate at the urging of Buckeye party leaders.

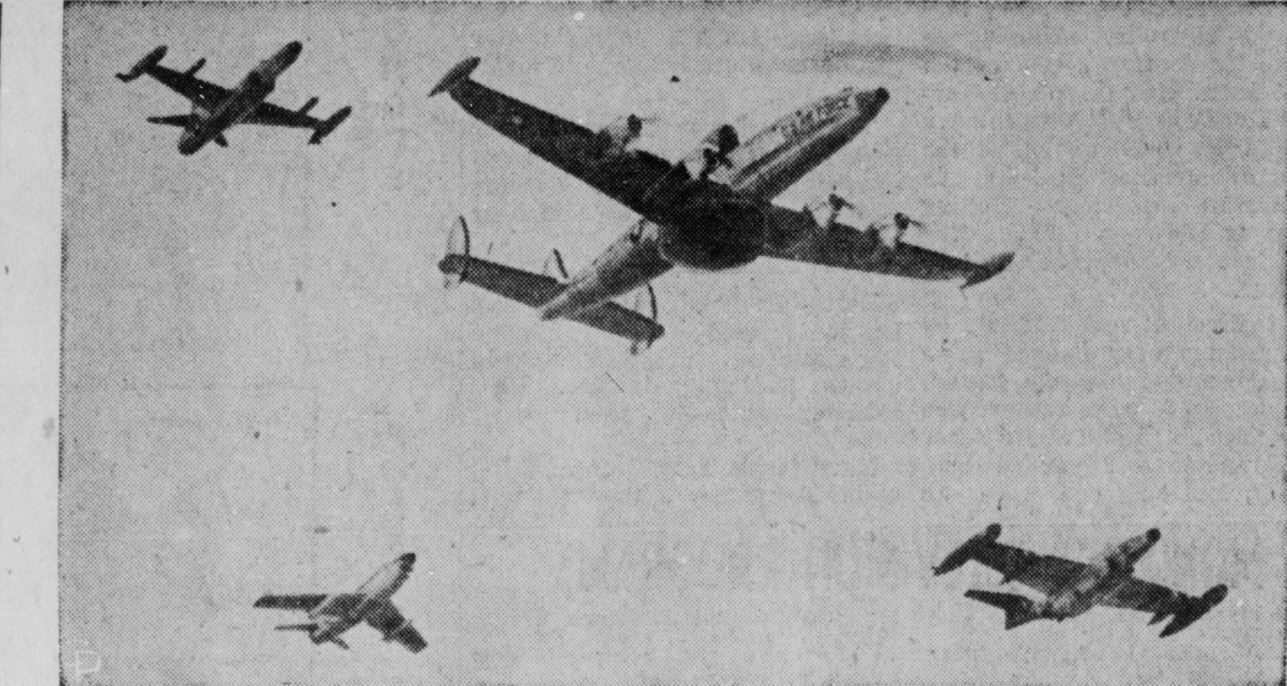

"I will allow my name to be used as the favorite son to whom you and others so disposed will be initially pledged," he said in a surprise letter to Rudy E. Stapleton, party chairman in northwestern Ohio's Fulton County.

Stapleton had asked Lausche's written permission, required by Ohio law, to seek election in the May 8 primary as a convention delegate pledged to him.

Harry R. Meredith of Lima, Democratic State Central Committee chairman, and others urged Lausche to accept the "favorite son" role earlier. But Lausche said he wrote Stapleton because his letter arrived about the time he made up his mind.

"The letter speaks for itself," Lausche insisted to questioners seeking amplification of his plans. He indicated that "initially pledged" were key words in the letter.

Delegates usually cast complimentary first votes for their "favorite son" before switching to bona fide presidential candidates at conventions.

But delegates can and sometimes do stay to the end with the "favorite son" to whom they are pledged.

Eugene H. Hanhart of Dover, Democratic state chairman, showed none of Lausche's reluctance for an outright declaration. Expressing delight at the governor's declaration, Hanhart said:

"The Democratic National Convention and the people of this country could do no better than to select and elect Frank J. Lausche as President of the United States."

Lausche said he had not considered anyone for the "second choice" of his delegate candidates as provided for by statute. Nor has he decided whether delegates pledged to him would have a full vote, or a partial vote each at the convention to permit a larger delegation.

Ohio's delegation will have 58 votes at the 1956 convention, four more than in 1952. That year, delegates from congressional districts had a vote apiece and those electoral district-wide had a half vote each.

Still unanswered is this big political question: Will Lausche run for a sixth term as governor or for U. S. Senator? He has said only that he will be a candidate for office. The filing deadline for Ohio candidates is next Feb. 8.

French-Canadian Boy's Note On Yule Tree Gets Results

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The note Clayton Smith found tied to one of the Christmas trees in a shipment from Canada was battered and soiled and written in a child's painstaking hand.

It said: "Dear Friend: I am a poor little boy. I am 15 years old. My name is Patrice Sonier. My father died last Easter Sunday. Will you please send me a BB gun for Christmas? We are nine children, seven boys and two girls."

Smith and his wife, who are childless, decided to find out more about Patrice. So they wrote to his mother in the tiny New Brunswick village of Tracadie. She answered—in French—that it would be a bad Christmas for her family. Since her husband's death, said of a $150,000 libel suit against a bank was reached in conference yesterday after the bank wrote the plaintiff a letter of apology.

The plaintiff, Frank D. Lazzaro, a meat dealer, withdrew his suit against Central National Bank.

The incident began two years ago during a grand jury investigation of gambling. A public official reported a bank officer had mentioned Lazzaro's name in connection with a loan. Lazzaro's suit charged this damaged his reputation, and the bank contended the statement was privileged.

Freedoms In U.S. Taken For Granted

CLEVELAND (AP)—Too many Americans take their freedoms too much for granted, Dr. William E. Stevenson, president of Oberlin College, declared here recently.

He was one of two guest speakers at a meeting to celebrate the anniversary of the Bill of Rights.

Dr. Stevenson asserted that "great freedoms are being chipped away before our very eyes" because too many Americans take their freedoms so much for granted that they stand by and watch them being eroded without a semblance of a protest.

Ohio Segregation Instances Studied

COLUMBUS (AP)—The legal committee of the Ohio Conference of Branches of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People is investigating segregation in Middletown, Hillsboro and Chillicothe schools.

If the committee finds evidence of segregation, says Charles J. Francis, president, it will ask Ohio courts to rule on the issue.

Francis' statement last night was in reply to Joseph F. Woodruff, Middletown school board president, who said his board does not believe it is practicing segregation.

Los Angeles Judge Decides He Better Ponder This Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Judge Louis H. Burke has taken this custody case under study:

The principals are Joan Underhill, 44; Mary Underhill, 39; and Mary's 3-year-old daughter, Kathleen.

Joan asked Judge Burke for custody of the child, claiming that she could give the youngster a better home.

Judge Burke discovered that Joan and Mary are sisters and Joan's husband Charles is the father of Mary's husband Charles Jr.

That makes Joan the child's aunt and also her stepgrandmother. She is also stepmother-in-law of the girl's father.

Joan's husband is not only Kathleen's grandfather but also her stepuncle as well as father-in-law of his sister-in-law and brother-in-law of his own son.

Chief Merriman Urges All Motorists To Use More Caution

Poor Weather, Icy Highways Reasons Listed

Pedestrians Warned They Must Look Out For Oncoming Cars

Present bad weather and the advent of the holiday season upcoming have prompted Chief of Police Elmer Merriman to ask motorists to use more caution.

He reminded drivers that some streets are still slippery—"stopping distance on snow or ice is from 3 to 12 times greater than on dry pavement." He pointed to two accidents earlier this week in which a car was unable to stop in time to avoid striking a youngster—both skidded on the city street.

Another safety hint given by the chief is for motorists to turn on their lights as soon as it begins to get dark. He said that a driver can start out with "running" lights at dusk and then to bright lights when it gets dark.

Chief Merriman urged motorists to keep their vehicles in the best possible condition. He said that a good set of tire chains or snow tires "are worth their weight in gold."

"IN WEATHER like we're having with your windows closed," the chief said, "it's hard to hear train whistles, other horns or even sirens. So you have to keep your speed down and look as well as listen."

Chief Merriman also had a warning for pedestrians. He said that pedestrians should realize that in this kind of weather a driver's visibility is cut down a great deal.

He said that running out from between parked cars is dangerous. He pointed out that an eight-year old girl was struck on E. Main St. because of this.

"Just because you have special equipment on your car don't think you can't get into an accident," the chief declared. "Those things help but the driver has to know how to use them."

Chief Merriman again issued a warning against driving while drunk. He pointed out that taking even one drink might mean the difference in whether or not an accident happens in this kind of weather.

"IT MAY warm the driver up," he said, "but it could put someone else on a cold slab."

The chief said that windshield wipers and defrosters should be checked to see if they are in good operating condition. (The National Safety Council has reported that in one out of 10 fatal accidents in 1953 the driver's vision was obstructed in some way.)

"There's a lot more traffic through here on the weekends," Chief Merriman pointed out. "It's sure a lot better to start earlier and go slower to make sure you get where you're going."

Acid Truck Hit By NYC Train

NORWALK (AP)—A New York Central train loaded with Christmas mail smashed into a truck loaded with sulphuric acid in nearby Greenwich yesterday. Nobody was injured seriously.

The collision demolished the truck, and broke the locomotive loose from the mail cars.

The engineer and fireman, temporarily blinded by sulphuric acid fumes, were unable to stop the runaway locomotive until it had traveled two miles. Automatic brakes stopped the mail cars within a few hundred yards after the locomotive broke loose.

Fishing Town Finds Bonanza In Home Bay

ARARI, Japan (AP)—This sleepy fishing hamlet south of Tokyo was reaping an unexpected harvest today—a school of 2,000 dolphins.

Each dolphin is about five feet long and worth more than $5. The $10,000 marine bonanza is real riches to 2,600 persons who wrest a meager living from the sea.

A lookout spotted the school Tuesday and aroused the villagers. Every able-bodied man, woman and child took to the boats.

They formed a ring around the school of big marine mammals and, beating madly on empty tin cans, drove them into Arari Bay. Then they sealed the entrance with their tiny boats.

About 599 dolphins flopped onto the white sandy beach. Villagers rushed there to market.

The village headman ordered the others left to swim in the natural aquarium. He cautioned:

"We'll ruin the price if we take them out all at once."

Fishermen predict the school will last for weeks if harvested slowly.

Winds Freshen In Favor Of Frank Lausche

Ohio Governor's Nod To 'Favorite Son' Role Brings Quick Backing

COLUMBUS (AP)—When Ohio Gov. Frank J. Lausche announced this week that he would accept the "favorite son" mantle from Ohio Democrats, political winds in his favor freshened quickly.

In Indiana, Charles H. Boswell, who will become Indianapolis city controller Jan. 1, announced he will seek election as a delegate to the Democratic National Convention to support Lausche for the presidential nomination.

Boswell served as city Democratic chairman in the successful campaign of Mayor-elect Phillip L. Bayt. The latter said he would do nothing to curtail Boswell's activity for Lausche, and added, "I know of no two men who think as much alike in politics as Boswell and myself."

In Massachusetts, former State Rep. James J. Burke announced plans for a "Lausche for President" committee. He said "the response has been excellent."

Democratic leaders in the South and elsewhere previously described Lausche as a presidential prospect, especially if a deadlock developed at the national nominating convention in Chicago next August.

They expressed a preference for Lausche as a conservative over other current prospects whom they termed "too liberal."

Lausche's care to avoid an outright presidential declaration was in keeping with his oft-repeated belief that "High public office does not come to him who avidly seeks it."

Ohio's only governor ever to win more than three terms accepted the role of "favorite son" presidential candidate at the urging of Buckeye party leaders.

"I will allow my name to be used as the favorite son to whom you and others so disposed will be initially pledged," he said in a surprise letter to Rudy E. Stapleton, party chairman in northwestern Ohio's Fulton County.

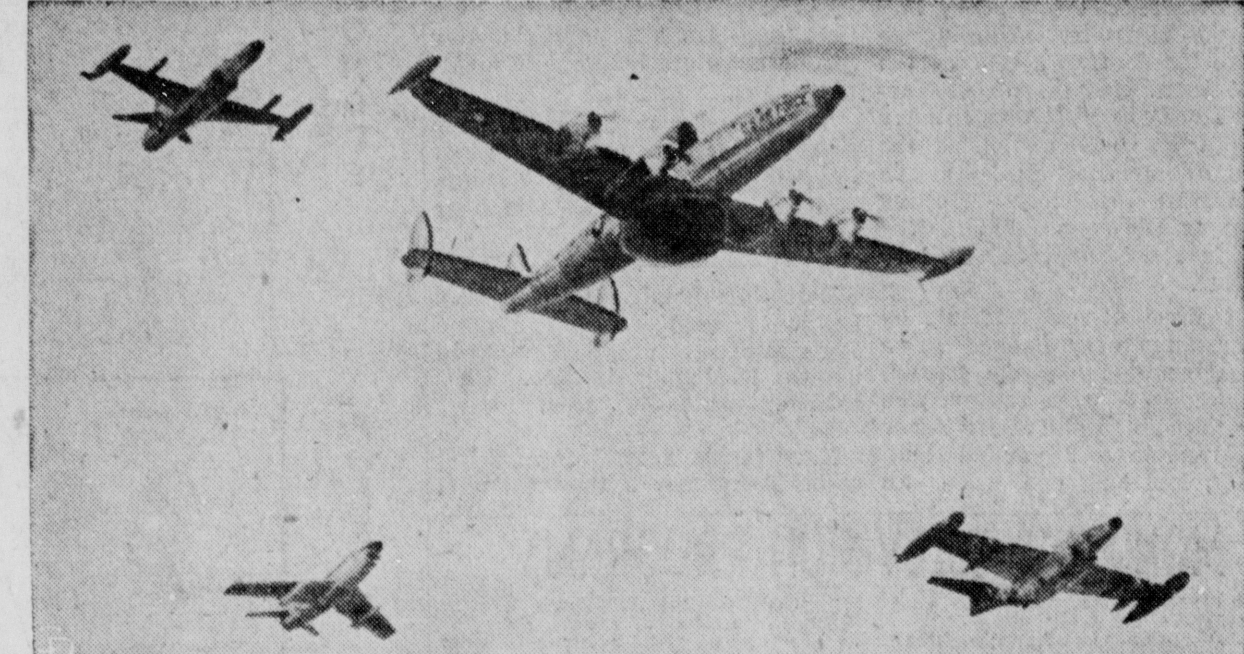

Stapleton had asked Lausche's written permission, required by Ohio law, to seek election in the May 8 primary as a convention delegate pledged to him.

Harry R. Meredith of Lima, Democratic State Central Committee chairman, and others urged Lausche to accept the "favorite son" role earlier. But Lausche said he wrote Stapleton because his letter arrived about the time he made up his mind.

"The letter speaks for itself," Lausche insisted to questioners seeking amplification of his plans.

He indicated that "initially pledged" were key words in the letter.

Delegates usually cast complimentary first votes for their "favorite son" before switching to bona fide presidential candidates at conventions.

But delegates can and sometimes do stay to the end with the "favorite son" to whom they are pledged.

Eugene H. Hanhart of Dover, Democratic state chairman, showed none of Lausche's reluctance for an outright declaration. Expressing delight at the governor's declaration, Hanhart said:

"The Democratic National Convention and the people of this country could do no better than to select and elect Frank J. Lausche as President of the United States."

Lausche said he had not considered anyone for the "second choice" of his delegate candidates as provided for by statute. Nor has he decided whether delegates pledged to him would have a full vote, or a partial vote each at the convention to permit a larger delegation.

Ohio's delegation will have 58 votes at the 1956 convention, four more than in 1952. That year, delegates from congressional districts had a vote apiece and those elected state-wide had a half vote each. Still unanswered is this big political question: Will Lausche run for a sixth term as governor or for U.S. Senator? He has said only that he will be a candidate for office. The filing deadline for Ohio candidates is next Feb. 8.

French-Canadian Boy's Note On Yule Tree Gets Results

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—The note Clayton Smith found tied to one of the Christmas trees in a shipment from Canada was battered and soiled and written in a child's painstaking hand.

It said:

"Dear Friend:

I am a poor little boy. I am 15 years old. My name is Patrice Sonier. My father died last Easter Sunday. Will you please send me a BB gun for Christmas? We are nine children, seven boys and two girls."

Smith and his wife, who are childless, decided to find out more about Patrice. So they wrote to his mother in the tiny New Brunswick village of Tracadie. She answered—in French—that it would be a bad Christmas for her family. Since her husband's death, said of a $150,000 libel suit against a bank was reached in conference yesterday after the bank wrote the plaintiff a letter of apology.

The plaintiff, Frank D. Lazzaro, a meat dealer, withdrew his suit against Central National Bank.

The incident began two years ago during a grand jury investigation of gambling. A public official reported a bank officer had mentioned Lazzaro's name in connection with a loan. Lazzaro's suit charged this damaged his reputation, and the bank contended the statement was privileged.

she has had a hard time keeping the children clothed and fed.

Patrice told me that he put the note on a tree," she wrote, "but I told him no stranger would help us."

But the Smiths got busy to prove Patrice's mother wrong.

Today, they had a large package ready to mail. In it: Not one, but three BB guns, two big, blonde dolls for the girls, a cuddle toy for the baby of the family, box after box of candy, a football, toy Indians and games—and a money order for Patrice's mother—"To get a little something extra."

"We hope to keep in touch with the family now," said Smith, a Dayton Christmas tree dealer for 25 years.

"And we certainly wish we could be there on Christmas," added his wife, "just to see their faces."

Freedoms In U.S. Taken For Granted

CLEVELAND (AP)—Too many Americans take their freedoms too much for granted, Dr. William E. Stevenson, president of Oberlin College, declared here recently.

He was one of two guest speakers at a meeting to celebrate the anniversary of the Bill of Rights. Dr. Stevenson asserted that "great freedoms are being chipped away before our very eyes" because too many Americans take their freedoms so much for granted that they stand by and watch them being eroded without a semblance of a protest.

Ohio Segregation Instances Studied

COLUMBUS (AP)—The legal committee of the Ohio Conference of Branches of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People is investigating segregation in Middletown, Hillsboro and Chillicothe schools.

If the committee finds evidence of segregation, says Charles J. Francis, president, it will ask Ohio courts to rule on the issue.

Francis' statement last night was in reply to Joseph F. Woodruff, Middletown school board president, who said his board does not believe it is practicing segregation.

Los Angeles Judge Decides He Better Ponder This Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Judge Louis H. Burke has taken this custody case under study:

The principals are Joan Underhill, 44; Mary Underhill, 39; and Mary's 3-year-old daughter, Kathleen.

Joan asked Judge Burke for custody of the child, claiming that she could give the youngster a better home.

Judge Burke discovered that Joan and Mary are sisters and Joan's husband Charles is the father of Mary's husband Charles Jr.

That makes Joan the child's aunt and also her stepgrandmother. She is also stepmother-in-law of the girl's father.

Joan's husband is not only Kathleen's grandfather but also her stepuncle as well as father-in-law of his sister-in-law and brother-in-law of his own son.
